Runway Issue Seen as Key to U.S. Approval

Lambert Field, limited to one major runway, must be replaced by a three-runway Waterloo-Columbia airport, expandable to six runways, if the St. Louis metropolitan area is to avoid turning away needed economic growth, it was stressed here Tuesday night.

Arven H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, addressed the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce board of directors at its July dinner meeting, held at Charlie's Restaurant.

"Because of its layout, Lambert is restricted to single runway operations. Simultaneous air carrier operations there are not possible now, or even after expansion there," Saunders noted.

Referring to an Aug. 1 Federal Aviation Administration hearing on the proposed new Illinois airport, he said:

"In spite of the fact that eight public hearings were held last fall, at which testimony was given by all interested parties, there are still some unsatisfied parties. Therefore, the FAA will hold yet another hearing."

"While this hearing will afford an additional opportunity to be heard, it will not change the facts nor will it change the processing of our application now before the FAA and U. S. Department of Transportation."

Saunders answered questions and voiced confidence that a final airport site decision will be made prior to the November national election.

He continued:

"The criterion for our site selection study was that of a major air carrier airport capable of serving the greater St. Louis area well into the 21st century, based on FAA data on projected air traffic growth."

"There have been charges that our forecasts are overly optimistic."

"It should be noted that the McDonnell Douglas forecasts for passengers are higher than R. Dixon Speas' and higher for both passengers and aircraft movements than Speas or the FAA."

"In any event, our projections show the need for an airport with three runways initially, and six ultimately, on 18,650 acres of land for restraint-free operation from 1980 on to the foreseeable future of winged air transport."

Venice Budget Includes City Hall Remodeling

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

An operating budget of $881,119 for the 1972-73 fiscal year which began May 1 was approved by the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

The budget also includes $225,000 for the city's share of the Broadway underpass and street relocation project and $170,000 for remodeling City Hall, for a total appropriation of $1,276,119.

The operating budget shows an increase of $36,164 over the 1971-72 appropriation. A portion of the increase results from a 4% salary increase granted to all full-time salaried city employees.

Last year's budget also allocated $170,000 for improvements, but the funds never were used as the city spent the year investigating the possibility of obtaining state and federal grants to supplement city funds.

Appropriations Not Used
The 1971-72 budget also included $420,000 for the Broadway underpass and street relocation project, which also was not utilized. The total budget last year, with improvements and the Broadway project, was $1,232,955.

Mayor John E. Lee explained the increase from $20,000 to $325,000 for the underpass and relocation by noting that the lower figure was based on estimates made five years ago.

"I am sure that cost of labor and materials has risen at least this much in that period," Mayor Lee commented.

When the Broadway project has been completed, the street will pass under the railroad tracks and will connect with the proposed southward extension of Federal Aid Route 151.

Of the operating budget, $199,337 is for the police department, including $161,547 in salaries and $37,790 for supplies and expenses. Last year, $201,520 was appropriated for police use, including $179,220 in salaries and $22,300 for supplies and expenses.

The street and alley department last year received $119,000, an increase of $4,784 over the 1970 extension of $1,030,000, and railroad taxes of $172,256, a drop of $787 below last year's $173,043.

Tax billings last year for the 1970 tax year included $15,686-351 in local tax charges and $385,765 in railroad taxes for a total tax charge of $16,102,117 in the four-township area.

Tax extensions for Namecki, Venice and Chouteau townships, announced Friday by County Clerk Eulalia Holtz, show that taxpayers of these three townships will be billed for a total of $6,465,475 in local real estate and personal taxes and $400,183 in railroad taxes for a total tax charge of $6,865,658. Tax books for the three townships have been turned over to the collectors and local collections will get under way as soon as bills can be prepared.

Record High Tax
Granite City tax charges, announced late in May, include $10,948,773 in local tax charges and $60,706 in railroad taxes, bringing the township's total tax bill to $11,009,571, the highest in the township's history. Tax collections now are being made in Granite City by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge.

Railroad taxes are not collected locally, however, and are paid directly to the county treasurer.

News Notes Local Delegates Put McGovern Over Top

In South Dakota Senator George McGovern's first ballot victory last night a dead-end road or the path to the Presidency Nov. 7?

It is too early to know, but it is "perfectly clear"—as McGovern's rival, President Nixon, might phrase it—that Illinoisans played a decisive role in the McGovern triumph at the Democratic convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

There were five avowed McGovern backers from this Congress district—Messrs. Jeanne Mudge, Suzanne Funk, Sue Koller, Carmen Kerr and Louis J. Williams—and he also picked up further strength in the Illinois delegation after Tuesday's withdrawal by Senator Murray of Maine.

At several minutes before 11 p.m., Wednesday, Quadt-City time, Pennsylvania delegates broke a 10-10 tie, 10-10, 1,484, with 1,509 needed for nomination.

State Rep. Clyde Choate, Illinois delegation chairman, strode to the microphone and began outlining the state's voting—a half-vote for Gov. Walker, 4/2; for Mr. Chisholm, two for former Gov. Sanford, two for former Sen. McCarty, three for Cong. Mills, 5/2; for Sen. Muskie, 3/2; and for the convention runner-up, Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington.

Then the announcement came—119 votes for "the next President of the United States, Sen. George McGovern."

Pandemonium swept the convention hall, and the chief of the convention and those completed.

Choate, chosen as potential vice-chairman at the time Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago was named the would-be delegation chairman, won plaudits from two Daley foes, Chicago Alderman William Singer and the Rev. Jesse Jackson, for McGovern support by Illinois Democrats.

The convention earlier had sanctioned this district's 14 half-vote delegates after a plea by one of the original seven, Rudy Davis of the United Steelworkers, to restore full votes.

During last night's nominating talks, I. W. Abel, national Steelworkers president, accused Sen. McGovern indirectly of "hypocrisy" in backing causes now which he voted against in the U. S. Senate.

While Madison County delegates at the convention, Miami Beach were on hand to cast their ballots, Walter T. "Buck" Simmons of Venice, chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, was not.

"However, that record is one of efficiency and economy," he said.

Traffic Death Toll Drops 60% in 1st Half of Year

The traffic death ratio in the Quad-City area during the first six months of this year declined 60%, below that of the same period last year, although the number of accidents occurring in the area increased slightly, a computation of accident statistics showed today.

Only one traffic fatality occurred in the Quad-Cities during June to bring to 11 the total number of traffic deaths during the first six months of this year. This compares with nine traffic deaths in the area during June 1971, and a total of 28 fatalities during the first six months of last year.

At the same time, the number of persons injured in area accidents during the first six months of this year decreased substantially below those of the same period in 1971, with a total of 385 persons reported injured during the period to June 30. During the same period last year, 480 persons were hurt in area accidents.

During June, records show, 54 persons were hurt in traffic mishaps, compared with 101 during the same month in 1971. A total of 176 accidents was reported in the area during June, compared to 147 during the previous month of May and 168 during June 1971.

These statistics brought to 1,854 the total number of accidents reported during the six months period this year, compared with 1,010 accidents during the first six months last year.

Traffic fatalities during the 1971 year hit an all-time high in the Quad-Cities with the total of 46 traffic deaths, with the June traffic toll of nine persons the highest for any single month of the year.

If the present ratio of traffic fatalities is maintained for the remainder of this year, approximately 22 persons will die in vehicle accidents, or slightly less than half of last year's total traffic toll.

tee, didn't get to join in the action.

"I was unseated as a delegate when I got there," Simmons commented.

"I was supposed to pick up my credentials when I got to the convention site but I told them there were none for me. I don't know how I got moved out."

Unlike Chicago Mayor Richard Daley and many other officials, he was able to attend the convention sessions.

At the convention as uncommitted delegates from this area were Charles Rester of Granite City, Gene Graves and Buddy Davis. Other delegates included Mrs. Dick H. Mudge of Edwardsville, Mrs. Carmel Kerr of Bethalto, Mrs. Suzanne Funk of Edwardsville and Mrs. Allan Singer of Ponton Beach.

Simmons said he was "pleasantly surprised" at the conduct of young people during the convention session, and at their interest and enthusiasm in the convention procedure.

The Illinois delegation was pretty much in a state of confusion when the convention first started, but its members eventually settled down and were a credit to the convention," Simmons concluded.

The board of directors of A. O. Smith Corp. on Tuesday declared a regular quarterly dividend of 18 cents per share of common stock, payable Aug. 15 to shareholders of record July 31.

The last regular quarterly dividend, declared April 13 and payable May 15, was 38.8 cents. A. O. Smith stock was split 2 for 1 on May 15, and dividend was payable before the split took effect.

The current dividend of 18 cents reflects a regular dividend, "accounting for the 2 for 1 stock split."

Attendance Tuesday night at the Mississippi River Festival exceeded 6,000, compared to 2,166 at the opening concert July 8 featuring pianist Andre Watts and 5,227 who heard trumpeter Doc Severinsen July 9.

Tuesday's pop-rock-folk music performers were vocalists Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge, and instrumentalists, Richard Charles, Mo., was treated here after being found unconscious along South University Drive near the SIU-SW campus at 1:40 a.m. Wednesday. He said he had been beaten by four or five men when he returned to his car after attending the concert.

Levy is Smaller
A total of $147,763 in anticipated revenue from park facilities and a $87,030 balance in the general fund will reduce the tax levy for that account to $254,132, according to the budget.

The appropriation bill shows that tax revenue will not be necessary for operation of either the park concessions or the Wilson Park Ice Rink. A budget of $47,473 was approved for the concession operations, but this will be financed with income from the concession stands in the full amount.

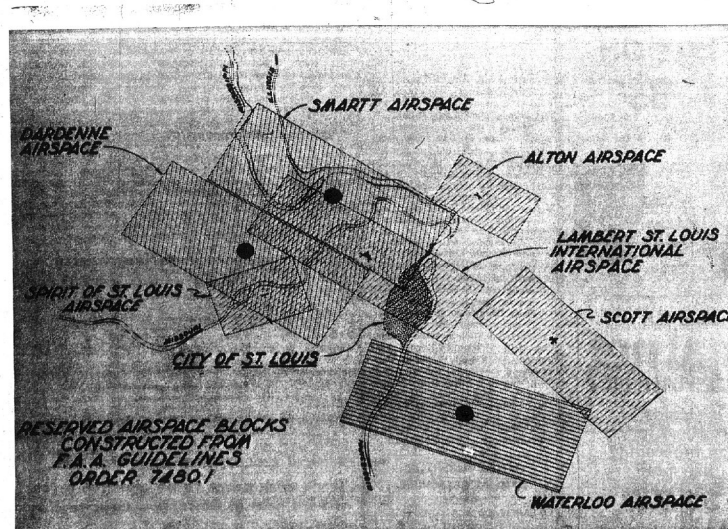

Budget for the operation of the ice rink is set at $85,925, but this cost also is covered by anticipated revenues from operation of the facility. A tax levy of only $2,000 will be required to meet budgeted costs of operation of the swimming pool.

The appropriation for the swimming pool operation is $87,030, offset by estimated receipts of $23,940 and a present fund balance of $34,039.

For recreational purposes the Park Board appropriated a total of $176,864. This includes operation of Neighborhood Park playground at $80,475, Wilson Park at $80,475, and the Community Center at $12,000 and the Namecki Recreational Center at $23,250.

Anticipated receipts from admissions.

Ogilvie Signs Bill for Refunds to Auto Buyers

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Monday signed legislation giving $3.7 million in refunds to persons who bought autos and light trucks last fall.

The governor signed the bill at 10 a.m. in Room 3000 of the state of Illinois Building, 150 N. LaSalle St., during a news conference.

Today's action ended the threat that court-administered refunds would deny buyers 100 cents on a dollar, the governor said. The refunds, averaging $10 to $20 each for more than 300,000 persons, cover state sales taxes which were removed from purchases retroactively. The governor commented that this opportunity to return at 100 cents on the dollar the money which rightfully belongs to 300,000 car buyers.

Had the General Assembly not acted promptly on these administration bills, a refund plan administered by the Circuit Court of Cook County would have eaten up a sizable portion of the amounts due because of fees and expenses.

Gov. Ogilvie said that the Senate Bills 1365, 1366, 1367 and 1368 — are persons who bought autos from last Aug. 16 through Dec. 10, and persons who bought light trucks of less than 10,000 pounds from Sept. 23 through Dec. 10.

Also covered are persons who paid a state used tax out-of-state purchases made during the same periods. To qualify for refunds, persons applying to the state Department of Revenue must have received a refund of the federal excise tax they paid on their purchases, Ogilvie noted.

Dealers Notified
In addition to sending notification to individuals from lists furnished by manufacturers, state officials are furnishing supplies of the refund forms to individuals from just before the refund forms are mailed.

Inquiries and forms will be handled by the Illinois Department of Revenue, Vehicle Tax Refund, P.O. Box 3085, Springfield, Ill. 62708. The amount due will be calculated by the department, according to the governor. He concluded:

"George Mahin, state director of revenue, tells me the forms are being and will go to the post office the minute the bills are signed. I'm glad to see that he's just as determined to make proper refunds as he is to collect all the taxes due the state. I've been pounding on my door for weeks to accomplish this job."

Memorable Monday for John Young; Donations Start Fund on Birthday

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Several events happened Monday to make the day a memorable one for a small boy facing a darkened future without the benefits and joys of sight.

It was the ninth birthday of John Allen Young, who is suffering from retinitis pigmentosa, an hereditary eye disease for which no cure is known and which always results in total blindness.

He is the son of Granite City Patrolman Albert and Janet Young. To date, the Youngs have not sought help — other than medical advice from physicians around the country — for their young son.

In response to inquiries made to the Press-Record and others, a "John Allen Young Fund" has been established at the First Granite City National Bank, 1860 Edison Ave., where contributions may be sent in the youngster's name.

Visit Many Places
The money will be used to take John to see as many places as possible before the eye ailment reaches its predestined and tragic end, his father said.

On a proposed trip to see the Statue of Liberty in New York, the family will visit Columbia Presbyterian and New York University medical centers where research into retinitis pigmentosa is being conducted. Physicians at both medical institutions, however, have advised the Youngs that no cure is known at the present time.

Happy Birthday
Despite the heartbreaking circumstances faced by the child and his family—Monday was a very happy day for John.

He was taken by his parents to see the St. Louis Arch and he made a trip to the riverboat Huck Finn.

Upon returning home, the Youngs were visited by members of the ROCA Young Men's Club, who presented Johnny with a new bicycle, a club tee shirt and a plaque naming him an honorary member.

The ROCA members also reported that plans to take the boy to see a St. Louis Cardinal baseball game, with locker room privileges before the contest with the players and a visit to the Busch Stadium press box.

Firemen Raise $1,200
Earlier on his birthday, John and his father went to Granite City's main fire station where a check for $1,200.78 was presented to them, representing funds earned by the firemen during a benefit car wash.

Fire Captain Robert Nunn said that less than 500 automobiles were washed by the men and more than 1,000 tickets were purchased by generous Quad-Cityans at $1 each.

"Two local men stopped by the station and gave us $10 each out of their pocket to add to the fund," the fire captain noted.

The boy and his father took the check to the First Granite City National Bank and the money was deposited in the fund. "This was a big thrill for him," the police officer said.

Willed to Eye Bank
Although an eye transplantation cannot be effected in John's case, as only the cornea of the eye is sometimes replaceable and not the image reproduction area between the eye and brain, both Albert and Janet Young volunteered their own eyes. If their young son could be helped.

The ophthalmologists he consulted gave negative responses to their offer. Both husband and wife have willed their eyes to a National Eye Bank, however. "Maybe they will help someone else who can benefit from a transplant," Young said.

Since the disease was diagnosed in January, the family has lived in dread of the day that Johnny can no longer see. His vision has deteriorated, but to what degree will not be known until comparison studies are made at McMillan Hospital, St. Louis, on Aug. 26.

Visual Memories
"The doctors say it could happen at anytime once deterioration starts," the father pointed out.

Knowing and accepting the dreadful prognosis, the couple is determined to give the boy as many happy visual memories as their financial position will allow before Johnny's sight is gone.

The Madison Police Department and Explorer Post 104 will sponsor a benefit barbecue for the John Allen Young Fund on Aug. 5 and 6. Details will be announced soon, an officer said.

During the same August weekend, the Young family will visit Disney World, near Orlando, Fla., as guests of the Madison County Deputy Sheriff's Association. It is a place the youngster longed to go, but his parents to undertake before the deputy sheriff's made it a reality, the boy's father stated.

Contributions may be mailed to the John Allen Young Fund, First Granite City National Bank, 1860 Edison Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Kucharski

I held, have I added to the tax burden of the people. In fact, when I served as the head of the third largest municipal office in the U. S.—the Cook County treasurer office—my administration earned more than $26 million for the taxpayers."

Kucharski said this record has been continued as assistant secretary of state and is reflected in the fact that the office for 1973 held the line on its budgetary requests.

"This," he said, "is at a time when the office is still making in-grade pay increases to employees."

"As I continue my survey of services," he continued, "more changes will be made for the benefit of the people of Illinois."

"The time has come for all citizens to realize that the secretary of state's office is no longer the scandal-ridden office of Democrat Paul Powell, but is under efficient management."

$705 in Tin Stolen From GC Army Base

Five bars of tin valued at $705 were stolen from the Granite City Army Installation, Army security officials told Venice police yesterday.

Agents from the Federal Bureau of Investigation have assumed jurisdiction of the case. The theft reportedly occurred during the weekend.

Entry to the installation was gained by cutting a 3-by-4-foot hole in the southwest corner of the outside fence. Barbed wire to a drainage ditch was cut as well as the fence.

Footprints indicated more than one person was involved in the theft. Army personnel said. The bars weighed 83 pounds each.

ing system to its full capability.

"The result is that, in a bad weather, flights must be diverted to other airports."

"Airports around the country are today gearing up for what we call Category II instrument landing, a system capability, which means the ability to land in very bad weather."

"The layout of Lambert precludes over achieving Category II, much less the most stringent—Category III."

"Flights operate today from Lambert with restricted loads."

"Often, the non-stop flight to Hawaii must stop on the West Coast to refuel because of limitations at Lambert for a new large aircraft."

"Sometimes, a delayed departure means that an arriving flight must wait on the apron for a gate."

"For these and other reasons, the National Airport Plan for the U. S. since 1968 has shown the need for a new large airport in the St. Louis region."

"Under the Federal Airport Act, the administrator, in formulating and revising the National Airport Plan, is required to take into account the needs of both airlines and general aviation, and the probable technological developments, including such things as short-takeoff-and-landing craft, collision avoidance systems, quiet engines, air traffic control procedure advances, etc."

"The FAA position paper concerning site specifically with the development of a new major airport for the St. Louis metropolitan area has this to say about the situation at Lambert Field:

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

"In the latter part of the 1960s, it became apparent to both the City of St. Louis and the Federal Aviation Administration that Lambert Field would not be able to do the job for long."

Saunders continued, "With the need for a new St. Louis airport thus established, the City of St. Louis in 1968 retained Horner & Shifrin, a St. Louis firm, to do a study of available sites for a new major airport in both Missouri and Illinois."

"Both this study and the two-site search conducted by R. Dixon Speas Associates indicated an Illinois location."

"The confirmatory evaluation study also conducted by R. Dixon Speas pinpointed the Columbia - Waterloo site as the superior location in the St. Louis metropolitan area."

"The St. Louis Metropolitan Airport Plan 1969-1990, contained in the Missouri Airport Plan issued in 1969, calls definitely for a new primary airport."

"The Speas studies confirmed that the only site not in conflict with existing or proposed Missouri airports was the Columbia-Waterloo site."

"Our regional planning efforts have assured that the area airport system will be a balanced one, with major airports flanking the metropolitan area. Our proposal is in accord with the regional plans approved by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council."

Rotarians Learn About Telephones

What's new in the field of communications was the topic presented by David Hargis, public relations supervisor for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. at a meeting of the Madison Rotary Club Wednesday.

Hargis, with the assistance of visual aids, traced the history of the development of the telephone and gave the club a preview of developments such as video phones yet to come.

President Jerry Maeras announced that the club will hold a joint meeting with the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. at the YMCA, to hear Richard R. Sanders, a member of the Rotary International Australian exchange.

Three Arrested for Illegal Weapons Use

Three St. Louis men, Clyde Sanders, 25, Arthur Young Anderson, 25, and Duane Hamilton, 18, were arrested and charged with unlawful use of weapons and no firearms identification by Venice police at 4 a.m. Wednesday near McKinley bridge.

Venice police said they were notified by the National City police that the men were heading toward Venice. Two pistols were found in the car. Venice officers said. The three men were released on $200 cash bond.

INGESTS OVERDOSE

A 17-year-old Granite City boy was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital after having ingested 60 of his mother's prescription pills at home at 3:45 a.m. yesterday. His parents took him to the hospital.

Veterans Administration Plans More Drug Centers

The Veterans Administration has announced its second major expansion of special VA drug treatment centers within a year. Two new centers will be opened within the next several weeks, and six of the 32 existing VA centers will be expanded, according to Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

The 12 new centers, Johnson said, will be opened at VA hospitals in these locations: Dallas, Tex.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Allen Park, Mich.; Wood, Wis.; Hines and Downey, Ill.; San Diego and Martinez, Calif.; Bedford, Mass.; Bronx and Northport, N. Y.; and Birmingham, Ala.

Three of the new centers, Bronx, Bedford and Birmingham, also will monitor drug treatment of patients in a second VA hospital as well as the parent hospital. The Bronx hospital will work with the Montrose, N. Y., hospital; the Bedford hospital with the Providence, R. I., hospital; and the Birmingham hospital with the Tuscaloosa, Ala., hospital.

Similarly, six of the existing centers will expand their programs to incorporate other VA facilities.

The Syracuse, N. Y., center will work with the Albany, N.Y., hospital; the Philadelphia center with the Coatesville, Pa., hospital; the Salem, Va., center with the Richmond, Va., hospital; the Little Rock, Ark., center with the Memphis, Tenn., hospital; the Vancouver, Wash., center with the Seattle American Lake, Wash., hospital; and the Sepulveda, Calif., center will work with the Los Angeles VA outpatient clinic.

Administrator Johnson recalled that VA accomplished a five-fold increase in its special drug treatment centers—from six to 32—within about three months after the President called for an all out government-wide effort to combat drug abuse in his June 17, 1971, message to Congress.

He noted that some 20,000 veteran drug addicts were treated in VA facilities during fiscal year 1972—compared to 5,000 the previous year—and said the latest expansion of treatment facilities would increase VA's in-house treatment capability by about 40 percent.

In a separate action last June 13, VA entered into a contract program with the New York State narcotics addiction control commission, providing nearly $2,000,000 for the treatment of an additional 1,100 veterans during the next year.

Nazarene Assembly Is Set July 26-28

A delegation of Nazarene church members of this area will take part in the annual Illinois district assembly at the Nazarene center near Mechanicsburg, Wednesday through Friday, July 26-28.

Annual reports will be made by pastors of 110 churches.

The Rev. L. S. Oliver, Springfield, will give his annual review as district superintendent and outline goals for the coming year.

The presiding official will be Dr. Eugene Stowe, Kansas City, Mo. He was re-elected last month to a second four-year term as general superintendent by delegates to the general assembly at Miami Beach. He first was elected a general superintendent in 1968.

The Church of the Nazarene is the largest Protestant denomination that stands for scriptural holiness in the Wesleyan tradition. During 1971, the church passed the half-million mark in world membership.

Social Security Venice Council Hears Increase Will Be Automatic

Social Security beneficiaries do not need to apply for the 20% benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1, William Phalen, Social Security district manager at East St. Louis, said this week.

All Social Security beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically, effective with checks delivered Oct. 3, Phalen said.

The average monthly payment for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162 and for a retired couple from $224 to about $271. A widowed mother with two children will receive an average Social Security benefit of about $386, up from $322. For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children the average payment will increase from $285 to about $354.

Phalen said the special payments to certain people 72 and over who are not insured for regular benefits also will be increased by 20%, from $48.30 to $58 for an individual and from $72.50 to $87 for a couple. The new law also includes a provision for automatic annual increases in benefits as the cost of living rises in the future.

Under the new law the maximum amount of earnings subject to Social Security tax will rise from the present $9,000 a year to $10,800 in 1972 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, Phalen pointed out, this amount would be automatically adjusted to keep pace with rising wages.

This means that as earnings rise workers with earnings at or above the maximum level will be paying Social Security tax on higher earnings, but they also will have these additional earnings counted toward the benefits that will be payable to them and their families in the future.

STRIKES PARKED CAR

The westbound car of James E. Trammell, 125 Garesche Homes, Madison, reportedly struck the parked car of Robert H. Baker, 2635 Madison Ave., in the 1500 block of Third Street in Madison at 4 p.m. yesterday.

Oliver Patterson, area coordinator for the Madison Economic Opportunity Commission, asked Venice officials Tuesday night to begin making plans for a roller skating rink or youth "dropping off" center in Venice.

Patterson made his request at the Venice City Council meeting but was told by Mayor John E. Lee of Venice that the city has no funds to construct such a center at this time.

Patterson said that in his work with Madison and Venice youth, the request for a roller skating rink was the most commonly expressed by juveniles.

Lee said that the city presently owns property on Logan Street in North Venice but that all available city funds now are being used for the Broadway underpass and relocation project and the remodeling of the city hall.

Suggests Program

He asked Patterson to meet with the city's juvenile officers to assist them in the establishment of a program for the youth which would be helpful in securing a state or federal grant for next year. The grant could be used to pay part of the cost of building a skating rink or youth center, Lee explained.

The council also heard from four residents of South Main Street, complaining about poor sanitation, weeds and speculators between the 800 block and the roundhouse.

Mayor Lee pledged that the city would cut the weeds and he asked Chief of Police Ralph D. Bravley to investigate ways to speed up the work on the street. The mayor asked the residents to be patient about the condition of the sidewalks and said he is working with labor unions to see if sidewalks throughout the city can be repaired by union trainees under a training program.

Approve Studies

The council approved an agreement with the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab engineering firm to conduct environmental impact studies on the proposed Broadway relocation and to prepare an environmental impact statement.

statement which is required in order to qualify for federal grants.

The councilmen agreed to pay $6,000 from the motor fuel tax fund to G. H. Sternberg & Co. contractors for completed sewer work.

A complaint of rats, junk and abandoned cars in the 600 block of Jefferson Street was referred to health officials.

Alderman Oscar King requested that a stop sign be erected to control northbound traffic at Logan and Weaver streets. The request was referred to the street and alley committee to study and make a recommendation.

A bridge traffic report was presented showing that 227,808 motorists paid tolls for McKinley Bridge during June, an average of 7,596 per day.

Overseas Zoo Safari Will Begin Sept. 17

The St. Louis Zoo Association has announced that it will sponsor a "zoo safari" to Rome, Kenya, Tanzania and Greece on Sept. 17 to Oct. 12.

The tour will be under the direction of William Hoff, executive director of the St. Louis Zoo.

The itinerary will highlight visits to Rome, Nairobi, Samburu Game Reserve, Mount Kenya Safari Club, Treetops, Lake Naivasha, Masai-Mara Game Reserve, Serengeti Plains, Ngongoro Crater, Lake Manyara, Amboseli Game Reserve, Tsavo National Park, Athi and other famous points of interest.

Hoff said, "The tour will enable us to photograph herds of wild beasts in their natural habitat. It also will give me the opportunity to consider some new additions for our zoo."

The St. Louis Zoo Association fund will benefit from profits derived from the tour. That portion of the fare received by the fund is tax-deductible.

Additional tour information can be obtained by writing to Mr. Hoff at the St. Louis Zoo.

River Festival to Revive 'Rock and Roll' Tomorrow

The pop-rock-folk music phase of the 1972 Mississippi River Festival will continue at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the tent-and-buside arena at SIU-SW.

Instead of the modern sounds which will be heard on many occasions this summer, there will be a trip backward in time Friday evening—to the "1950 Rock and Roll Revival."

The Rock and Roll Revival, with Larry Miller as master-of-ceremonies, will spotlight Bill Haley and the Comets, Chubby Checker, The Coasters, Freddie Cannon and Bobby Comstock.

Bill Haley and the Comets were the first to hit the rock and roll charts with their "Rock Around the Clock."

Chubby Checker made the Twist the dance craze of its time.

The Coasters brought forth songs expressing the frustrations of teenagers with comic parodies. Among their best-selling songs were "Yakety Yak," "Charlie Brown" and "Poison Ivy."

Freddie Cannon became popular with such hits as "Palisades Park," "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy" and "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans."

Bobby Comstock's "Let's Storm" was a million-selling song.

Steel Imports Show Increase

Washington — Steel imports by the United States soared to their highest levels in eight months during May, the American Iron and Steel Institute reports.

Government data available to ASI shows that 1,616,000 tons of foreign steel entered this country during the month. The total included 12,000 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks.

May's imports were more than 75% above April's 882,000 tons and were the largest one-month total since 1,788,000 tons of comparable imported steel arrived in the U. S. during September 1971.

The increase ranged across a broad spectrum of steel products.

Alloy steel imports, for example, climbed to more than 39,000 tons in May, nearly double their April figure of 20,000 tons. This pushed alloy imports for the year past the 134,000 ton mark.

Stainless imports also rose sharply, from about 10,000 tons in April to nearly 13,000 tons in May. Their total through the first five months of 1972 was more than 69,000 tons.

Similar rises were reported in several key product areas. One example: 618,000 tons of sheet and strip imports during May, compared with 295,000 tons the previous month.

Imports of plates in May more than doubled, reaching 146,000 tons. This contrast with the 85,000 ton total in April.

Foreign shipments of bar and bar shapes into the U. S. totaled 154,000 tons during May, compared with 93,000 tons in April. Imported unfabricated structural steel totaled 14,000 tons, in contrast to 10,000 tons in April. Pipe and tubing imports climbed to 185,000 tons during May, up from 143,000 tons the previous month.

Through the first five months of 1972, steel imports totaled 5,985,000 tons, including 53,777 tons of fabricated structural steel and steel blanks.

Rookie Seriously Injured at Tri-City Motorcycle Races

First-year rookie motorcycle racer Mike Watkins, 17, of Canton, Ill., was seriously injured when he fell from his motorcycle and was run over by the motorcycle of Robert Deiss of Pekin during a heat race at the Tri-City Speedway Tuesday night.

Watkins was near the rear of the pack in the second heat race when the rear wheel of his bike slid out, dropping him in the center of the track between the first and second turns. Deiss, who was racing right behind at more than 80 miles per hour, was unable to avoid hitting the downed racer.

Watkins was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. He was listed in critical condition in the intensive care unit with internal injuries today.

Deiss suffered injuries to his left leg but did not require hospital treatment.

Lee Victorious
Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Tex., won his second feature race of the four weekly motorcycle races this season. Lee kept things well in hand throughout the rest of the evening as he handily won his heat race, the trophy dash and the second semi-feature. He also won time trials with a quarter-mile lap in 15.48 seconds.

In the feature he was trailed by Mike Johnson of Flint, Mich., and Gordon Dusenberry of Wichita, Kan.

Dusenberry Wins Heat
Dusenberry was second in the first heat with Watkins third. The third heat was won by Johnson with Gary Cape of St. David, Ill., second, and Ray Chapple, third.

Rookie Al Steele of Alton won the third heat, defeating last year's track champion Neil Keen of St. Louis.

The fourth heat was dominated by Steve Bargues of Belleville, trailed by Gene Southard and Richard Poston of Collinsville.

Lee Wins Dash
Unable to pass Lee in the trophy dash were Johnson and Keen who finished second and third.

Steele claimed victory in the first semi-feature with 161 and second Dusenberry third.

Trailing Lee in the second semi-feature were Cape and Deiss.

Racing will continue Tuesday night with time-trials at 7 p.m. and the first heats at 8 p.m.

Mercer Plays Menard; Van's at St. Mary's For Contest Saturday

The Mercer Inter-City League baseball team will travel Saturday for a game with the inmates of the Menard State Prison.

This will be the 10th year the local team has played at the prison. Last year's game saw a 15-1 tie, called at the end of nine innings as the prisoners had to return to their cell blocks.

St. Mary's Boosters will play a re-scheduled game against Van's of East Alton beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday on the Third Street diamond in Madison.

Inter-City action on Sunday will see Mercer traveling to Troy for a 2 p.m. game; St. Mary's is not scheduled.

Highland-Pierson will play at Piassa, Fairfax of East Alton will visit Mollitor in Collinsville, and Glen Carbon will tackle Van's at East Alton in other Sunday games.

Red Division standings show Troy far ahead with 161 and Highland-Pierson, Van's Piassa and Mollitor all with 55 records.

In the Blue Division, Glen Carbon has 64, St. Mary's and Mercer 48 each and Fairfax 1-8.

County in Excellent Financial Position

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer
Madison County remains in an excellent financial position, the County Board was told by auditors at its July meeting Wednesday morning at the courthouse in Edwardsville. Representatives of R. C. Scheffel & Co. of Alton, certified public accountants, said that with continued careful supervision and efficient operation, the county could hold the position it has enjoyed in the last few years.

The firm presented an 87-page audit report for the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, concluding with 16 recommendations for improvements in operating and investment procedures.

R. C. McCune, representing the firm, said, "The investment program has been much more efficient. The return on the investments has been much greater than five years ago."

He continued to stress investment of all excess funds until they are needed for legal purposes, said some departments had large balances, noting the Highway Department as an example.

Lee Schlemmer, highway superintendent, said it is required to hold surplus funds to meet obligations and said in the past he has been forced to redeem some certificates before they come due.

The auditor pointed to the county's practice of purchasing U. S. Treasury bills in 90-day maturities only and does not provide for situations in which excess funds would be available for shorter or longer periods.

The county's Attorney Roland Griffith and County Auditor John Kravynak said there had been maturities only and does not provide for situations in which excess funds would be available for shorter or longer periods.

Lovejoy Library Given Collection of Letters

A collection of family letters and papers dating from 1826 have been presented to Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

The donor is Addie Erlinger of Trenton whose grandmother, Adeline Hall Aldrich Hays McDonald, saved the material. Although her grandmother died before Mrs. Erlinger was three years old, the letters were not read until Mrs. Erlinger was a young woman "because my mother considered them private."

Many of the letters were written during the Civil War by Adeline's son, Homer, who died in an Army camp of measles, and Elias Hays' sons, Oliver and Andrew Jackson. In addition to personal material, there are comments on troop movements, treatment of prisoners and conditions in the camp.

Adeline was widowed three times. After Aldrich died she married Elias Hays and later was wed to the Rev. Charles McDonald.

Adeline's brother, Noah P. Hall, kept a diary of a trip from Madison County to Chicago in 1834 in a canoe purchased from the Indians. The original diary and a transcript are included in the collection.

Recorded in the diary are some of the adventures of Hall and two other families who homesteaded 40 miles south of Chicago. Correspondence during this period was postmarked Paw Paw. The homesteaders were Stephen Aldrich, his wife Adeline and children; and Seth Gillett, his wife Laura and their children. When the homesteaders retired to Madison County, they apparently lived near Marine.

50-YEAR REUNION. Seated left to right Wednesday, the Chibec brothers, Edward, Jerry and Karl were re-united after a 50-year separation. Jerry is on a 45-day visit here from Kompro, Czechoslovakia. He is a retired from the Skova factory. Edward lives at 906 Alton Ave., Madison, and Karl is from Glen Carbon. Jerry is staying with his sister, Mrs. Hilda Schein, in Collinsville.

11th Junior Olympics Friday at Wilson Park

The 11th annual "Junior Olympics," sponsored by the Granite City Park District will take place at 9 a.m. Friday at Diamond No. 8 in Wilson Park.

Mrs. Hilda Schein, summer recreation supervisor, announced today.

An Olympic-style parade spotlighting youthful contestants from each of the park district's playground centers will officially open the games, followed with recitation of the "Olympic Oath."

Ribbons will be awarded to winners of track and field competition. Mrs. Bjorkman said. Events for the grade-school-age participants, both boys and girls, include: Baseball throw, obstacle races, sack races, dashes, hurdles and long jumps.

Pre-games elimination contests have been staged this week at most of the district-sponsored playgrounds. Competition is divided into three age groups: minies, midgies and juniors.

Free Swim Period
An added incentive this summer will be free swimming time Friday afternoon at the Wilson Park pool for all the young contestants. Mrs. Bjorkman said.

Children are to bring a sack lunch to eat the park immediately after the games conclude. Those competing are required to preseat a permission slip signed by a parent or guardian, she noted.

This year, members of the summer recreational staff will supervise and direct the contests, the supervisor said. Judges will be John Jacobs, Jim Davis, Janet Kline, Susan Throckmorton and Stephen Ashby.

Official starters and scorers will be Jerry Meyers, Jack Scarborough, Steven Suess and Denver Austin.

Recreational aides serving as timers, runners, retrievers, tape holders and messengers will include Mary Lee, Mark Boone, Terry Moore, Richard Hodshire, Tim Lyster, Mary Milton, Walter Roczky, Perry Dillard, Sarah Hillmer, Lou Mullins, Jane Hutchings, Brenda Parker, Paula Wise, Gail Black and Colleen Jeffries.

Cliffon Nickle New Steak House Manager

Cliffon Nickle, formerly of Independence, Mo., began his duties as the new manager of the George Lindsey Family Steak House, 300 Namek Road, this week.

Nickle and his wife Mary Elizabeth have three daughters, Mrs. Mary Louise Blanks and Elizabeth, both teachers, and Margaret 17, who is working at the Lindsey Restaurant in Independence.

His son Preston 20, a university senior, is an Eagle Scout, holder of the God and Country award, and a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Due largely to his son's interest in the Boy Scout program, Nickle has spent 11 years as an active Boy Scout Leader, serving as an assistant Scoutmaster.

"I would like to invite every Boy Scout in the Uniway (Quad-Cities) district who earns his Eagle Scout award or the religious award of his faith while I am in Granite City, to come here and have the steak of his choice as my guest," Nickle said.

"I also would like to invite any Girl Scout that earns either the Protestant, Jewish or Roman Catholic Girl Scout award in the Quad-City area to also be my guest for dinner."

State to Send Trade Mission To Soviet Union

Illinois will send a trade mission to the Soviet Union early this fall, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has announced.

Official permission has been obtained from United States officials, Ogilvie said. He continued:

"Anticipating the trade agreement the President announced yesterday, we have been conferring since last fall with our officials to get clearance for a top-level trade mission."

"We now have the green light to go, and it will be the intention of the mission to establish the special requirements of purchasers in the Soviet Union and in Eastern Europe for Illinois products, principally corn and cattle and hog breeding stock."

"There is tremendous potential for greatly expanded sales from Illinois under terms of the $750 million agreement with Russia."

"As the leading agricultural exporting state, Illinois stands to benefit the most from this trade breakthrough if we are prepared to accommodate the needs of purchasers."

Ogilvie said Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has approved the trip, and will furnish technical assistance for the Illinois group, numbering about a dozen persons.

Ogilvie continued:

"Secretary Butz informs me that 'Russia has recently launched an ambitious program of livestock expansion, attempting to improve living standards through increased meat production. As a result, requirements for feed grains and high-protein feeds are increasing significantly.'"

"This program puts Illinois into a favored position because of our preeminence in these production fields."

"The President's announcement yesterday did not include mention of soybean sales to the U.S.S.R., but the mission will explore this possibility intensively."

"I think the potential of Illinois trade with the eastern-block countries is very exciting, both in terms of the economic impact on Illinois producers and in terms of better relations with the Soviet Union on a broad front."

"HOW TO BUY FRESH FRUITS 'N VEGETABLES!"

Fresh fruits and vegetables not only are packed with good-for-you ingredients like vitamins and minerals, but they also add color and variety to your meals. Thanks to the increased efficiency of marketing and the great strides made in recent years in the produce industry, most of the fresh fruits and vegetables on today's market are of excellent quality. Year-round abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables can be credited to the great strides made by growers, shippers and distributors - including improved varieties, more efficient methods of production, shipping and advanced techniques of packaging, pre-cooling, shipping, storing and refrigerating.

Simple hints for buying are:

- 1) Buy in season when prices are the most reasonable.
- 2) Buy only what you need since fresh fruits and vegetables are perishable.
- 3) Buy for quality. Look for maturity, ripeness, good color. You are your own best judge of quality.

'Kermesh' at Madison Church on Sept. 10

Metropolitan Irene, primate of the Orthodox Church in America, which covers the United States, Canada, South America and Mexico, will head the list of church dignitaries assembling here on Sunday, Sept. 10, to take part in special commemorative services at the Nativity of Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison.

The occasion will be "Kermesh," a Russian word meaning "The" (supreme climactic highlight) Celebration or Jubilee, when the local church will celebrate the symbolic "burning" of the mortgage, according to the Rev. Vladimir Lecko, parish priest.

The Rev. Lecko said the present church building, located at 416 Ewing St., Madison, was completed and consecrated just seven years ago.

The parish itself, however, was founded 72 years ago and is the second oldest church congregation in the city of Madison.

Dedication, sacrifice, diligence, cooperation and prayer were needed to enable the Nativity of Virgin Mary parishioners to retire the mortgage, the minister noted.

"All members of the parish are looking forward with pride to celebrating the burning," he said.

Pontifical Divine Liturgy (thanksgiving) is planned for the morning hours on Sept. 10. A banquet and entertainment, to which the public is invited, are scheduled following the religious services. The Rev. Lecko announced.

Members of the Kermesh committee, who are responsible for arranging a portion of the extensive celebration, met during the weekend to review progress reports.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. William Popovich, Agnes P. Fyritzko and Mary Schuster. The Rev. Lecko and George Butchko, co-chairmen of the Kermesh Celebration, also attended.

Other officials of the Orthodox Church hierarchy expected to participate in the commemorative services here are: Archbishop John of Chicago and Minneapolis; and Bishop Theodosius of Pittsburgh Area and West Virginia. The latter formerly served as pastor of the Madison church.

At one time the Orthodox Church in America was part of the Russian Orthodox Church.

Jaycees to Observe Silver Anniversary

The Granite City Jaycees initiated plans this week to observe the 25th anniversary of the local young men's service club in November. The club was chartered on Nov. 24, 1947, the 50th Jaycee chapter recognized in Illinois.

A special committee appointed to coordinate plans for the celebration met Monday evening at the Jaycee Clubhouse on Poplar Street. Earl Warnhoff, state director of the Granite City chapter and a past Illinois Jaycees vice-president, is serving as general chairman. Warnhoff invites all former Jaycee members, who have information concerning the club that may be of interest to the anniversary committee, to contact him, at 877-6376 (home) or 452-2100 (business); or Guy Cooper, club president, at 876-1572 (home) or 452-2100 (business).

"Go With the Jaycees — 25 Years of Community Service" has been selected as the silver anniversary theme, Warnhoff advised.

Other members of the planning group, who met this week were Bill Talley, immediate past president, Jim Jeffries, Jim Thrane, Al Delay, Bill Weible, Frank Woods and Jerry Gann. A session is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 1, to continue planning the anniversary event, Warnhoff said.

Only Minor Earnings Impact From Laclede Price Rollback

Paul B. Akin, president and treasurer of Laclede Steel Co., on Tuesday sent to stockholders announcement of plans for a rollback on prices.

Akin related, "In the annual report and at the annual meeting, I mentioned that we were trying to get a satisfactory ruling for Laclede from the Federal Price Commission. The Price Commission has now granted Laclede a restricted base period profit margin.

"As Laclede's first-quarter profit margin exceeds our assigned base period profit margin, Laclede must roll back price increases made at the first of the year, and refund to the affected customers the amount caused by the increase.

"The effect of the rollback and refund on Laclede's earnings will be relatively insignificant. Our pretax profit as a per cent of sales will be reduced by less than two-tenths of one per cent.

"After we make the price rollback and the refund, Laclede will be permitted under present federal regulations to continue to exceed our allotted base period profit margin.

"At present, I will make no change in the prediction that I made at the annual meeting: In my opinion, second-quarter earnings will probably be somewhat better than those of the first quarter.

"In August, we will incur additional labor costs that will not be offset by price increases. Hence, third-quarter earnings will probably be down somewhat from the second-quarter level. At this time, I will make no prediction for the fourth quarter."

Council to Get Bids On Trash Collection

Granite City Council members are expected to act in their regular meeting Monday night on the award of a contract for additional trash pickups to permit the city to comply with a statewide ban against open burning.

Four bids were received this week by City Clerk Robert Stevens on weekly trash pickups, but the figures were not released pending examination by the council's Sanitary Committee headed by Alderman William Dallas.

Bids were received from the Milam Corp., which now has the city's garbage collection contract, Midwest Sanitary Service of Wood River, Red's Truck Service and Harrison Parlett, both of Granite City.

The open burning ban became effective July 1 and prohibits the burning of trash in all cities over 1,000 population. Thus cities must meet the demand for additional pickups of trash and debris that otherwise would be burned.

Graham Charged With Escape from Court

Kenneth Graham, 49, who gave an address in the 2100 block of Delmar Avenue, was arrested at his home at 10:40 p.m. and charged with escape. Graham is charged with leaving the Granite City courtroom of Judge William Johnson Monday while he was in the custody of Venice police.

Officers reported they left the courtroom momentarily to obtain papers committing Graham to the Madison County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond on a charge of driving while intoxicated. When they returned, Graham had left, police said.

Graham was charged with driving while intoxicated, careless driving and having no driver's license after his car struck a horse trailer in Venice Sunday.

A BIT OF THE PAST may be recaptured by looking at antique cars such as this 1923 Maxwell sports touring car, owned by Gene Wilson, 1835

Market St., Madison, one of more than 50 which will be on display at the antique car show at Wilson Park Sunday afternoon.

Student Group Formed For 5 State Colleges

Copley News Service
Springfield — Student power. Recently, it's meant a lot of things—demonstrations, clenched fists and the darker sides of hippieism.

There is another variety, and it has just opened shop in Springfield. Equipped with $372 bill furniture and one very energetic staffer, the Association of Illinois Student Government members set up headquarters in Springfield.

And although AIG preaches along the "student power" line, it frowns on anything more disruptive than a hearty talk with an Illinois lawmaker. AIG, which represents five Illinois university student governments, is the brain child of Lonnie Johns, who also happens to be executive director, chief lobbyist, researcher and public relations man for the new legislative group.

After a somewhat slow beginning—Johns' tiny Springfield office was the office he lived off the petty cash fund—AIG now has its own office two blocks from mibe Capital Hill, the main order of business for the group takes place. Although the Illinois General Assembly has gone home for the summer, AIG is just getting down to the real work.

Need of Groups
"Our purpose is to show students that they can effect change by working within the present government structure," said Johns, a 1971 Southern Illinois University graduate, who spent much of last year traveling around the state conducting university student governments that such a student legislative group was needed.

He convinced five schools in Eastern Illinois, Northern Illinois, Southern Illinois (Carbondale and Southern), Western Illinois and Illinois State universities joined to the association, which gave Johns $19,725 for the first year's budget and the hefty assignment to make AIG work. "And it has worked... we've seen concrete results already," said Johns, citing AIG's push during the spring legislative session for an amendment on a higher education appropriation bill that funneled $15,000 in added funds into student services.

Some top priority items for the group, according to Johns, will be to research bills that affect students, seek support for student-oriented legislation, and just gather information for students on how state government works.

Students at Springfield
"Usually when students come to Springfield, they don't know what's happening," said Johns. "They spend a whole day just trying to find a certain bill," he said.

This summer AIG will be working on some specific issues—planning students on university ruling boards, restructuring the state scholarship system; and giving students more control of student activity fees.

AIG works primarily through university student governments, with each student body president serving on the advisory board. While Johns is the overall AIG coordinator, his main right now is to sift proposed legislation and keep the schools informed.

According to Johns, California is the only other state with a similar organization. AIG, he said, plans to add at least four more states.

Mostly he will be working with student interns, who will get college credit for working on AIG projects. In the fall, Johns, who became a familiar figure around the Statehouse in the closing days of the spring session, says so far the legislators' response to his organization has been good.

The annual Golden Quill Award for editorial writing will be presented at the Thursday night, July 20, banquet of Sigma Delta Chi, sponsored jointly by the SDX chapters of St. Louis, Southern Illinois and Southern Illinois University.

Benefit Dance to Aid Former Madison Man

A benefit dance will be held Sunday, beginning at 2 p.m. in the American Legion Post 113 Home, 24th Street and Madison Avenue, to help pay the cost of a liver operation for Harold "Tiny" Fields, formerly of Madison and now living at Darmstadt, Ill.

The dance will be sponsored by the Leiner Booking Agency of Granite City and Bud North and his "Country Kats" band, with many area musicians planning to participate.

Fields was injured in a fall last October while working on a construction project in Kansas City, Mo., and has been unable to work since the accident. He and Mrs. Fields have eight children, six of them still at home. The children range in age from 8 to 16.

Fields has worked as a musician in the Quad-City area for 30 years and will be remembered as a radio personality in the southern Illinois area. The family lived in Madison until moving to Darmstadt about a year ago.

Church Youth Group Plans Paper Drive

The Youth Fellowship of the United Methodist Church, Fifth Street and Ewing Avenue, Madison, will collect old newspapers Saturday in an effort by the youth of the church to help preserve natural resources, it was announced today.

The newspaper drive will be trucked to a paper company in the area for recycling. Everyone is invited to bring their old newspapers to the parking lot in back of the church between 12 noon and 3 p.m. Saturday.

The newspapers should be tied in bundles, placed in grocery bags or stacked in cardboard boxes. Those who wish to have newspapers picked up at their home in Madison or Venice may call 876-3355, church leaders said.

The youths plan to collect old newspapers on the third Saturday of each month during the summer, the group announced.

Special Education Instruction Continuing Here During Summer

(Third of a series)

Swimming, arts, crafts and recreational activities mixed with mathematics and reading activities — this mixture is the philosophy behind the special education class for 28 elementary students from the Quad-City area who are participating in the Quad-City Special Education Region's 1972 summer program.

The program is one of three coordinated by Special Education District Region I of Madison County.

An additional 12 students are enrolled in a Dunbar School summer program and 12 participate in the educable mentally handicapped program at Granite City High School. Under the direction of Margaret Mary Flammang of the YMCA, the elementary students spend the first hour of the daily class in the YMCA swimming pool. The swimming instructor is assisted by two volunteers, Mark James and Debbie Hillard.

After swimming, the students go to Emerson School for arts and crafts, special reading and math activities directed by Mrs. Mary Kessner and Mrs. Debbie Plummer. They are assisted by two student teachers.

The program is designed to aid educable mentally handicapped and trainable students with physical, skills and academic training.

The mathematics program utilizes prepared kits. Experience charts developed around each child's activities are used for reading training. At Dunbar School, activities center around remedial reading and math training, and one field trip during the summer is planned.

Mrs. Caille Mickels teaches the Dunbar program, assisted by one student teacher. The high school summer program, catering to educable mentally handicapped students, offers course work in English and mathematics.

The English course includes an overview of different types of jobs available to the students. The classroom work is intended to help the students prepare for educationally-related field trips which will be included in the program.

Planned trips will be to restaurants, a car-lift, a state park, a bakery and a photo processing plant.

Funds from the Illinois Division of Vocational Rehabilitation finance the field trips.

The math program, in addition to helping the students improve their skills in math, works with helping the students develop leisure time activities.

Stu Mills is in charge of the high school summer program, aided by a student teacher.

The high school students meet from 8 a.m. to noon daily, and hours for the elementary program are 8:15 to 11:15 a.m. Both programs began June 5 and will continue through July 21.

The Dunbar program started June 2 and also will be completed July 21. Classes there meet daily from 8 a.m. to noon.

Deputy Robert Andrews of Granite City reported that while patrolling the canal road he saw an empty auto and then heard voices from the water.

He reported that he saw a man sitting on a woman in the water and, as he approached, the man went to shore.

Airport Authority OK's Planning For Airport

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, meeting yesterday, approved the hiring of two consulting firms to study the proposed Waterloo-Columbia major jetport in Illinois and to draft a master plan to guide the long-term physical development of the facility.

The plan, which will cost about $50,000 to complete, will include a financial feasibility study, an environmental study, and will suggest the location of runways, terminals, parking areas and other facilities.

Hired were the St. Louis consulting firm of Sverdrup & Parcel and Associates, Inc., and the firm of Lester B. Knight and Associates, Inc., of Chicago. They were selected from 52 firms that were considered and 18 which were interviewed, Robert D. Lamkin, chairman of the airport authority, said.

"The new airport will involve the most complex airport planning effort undertaken anywhere," Lamkin explained.

"The development of a new primary airport for St. Louis will require special care in master planning because of the uniquely complex and intricate scope of the work. The master plan will shape the initial and long-range physical development of the airport, terminals and access to the airport," he continued.

"We intend to plan, construct and operate the finest air facility in the world," Lamkin concluded.

Levee District Audit Urges Public Bidding

Recommendations that the East Side Levee and Sanitary District adhere to a stricter practice of competitive bidding on purchases of equipment and supplies, and district projects, are made in the taxing district's audit which has been filed with the levee board.

The audit, prepared by the East St. Louis firm of Bert H. Allison & Co., certified public accountants, also criticized "inadequate" board minutes and borrowing from special tax funds to meet general fund payrolls.

In reference to public advertising for bids, the audit said, "State law requires that advertised bids be sought for items costing over $4,000. Good administration in purchasing would be to obtain bids on all items over $100. Although this may sound impractical, it could be done with very little effort and it could amount to substantial savings to the district."

Youth Injured as Car Hits Utility Pole

William Loving, 15, of 1124 Market St., Madison, was injured when the eastbound car in which he was a passenger reportedly struck a utility pole at Seb. St. and Col. St. in Venice at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

The driver of the car, Robert Loving, 17, of the same address, was charged with having no driver's license.

William Loving was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was injured with a right leg fracture, X-rays were taken of his chest, skull, neck and right lower leg, and he was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Expanded Blast Furnace Sought

National Steel Corp. approval is being sought to spend several million dollars for a 20% expansion of blast furnace capacity here, Howard M. Love, president of Granite City Steel Co., said yesterday.

Reporting that the local subsidiary of National was "solidly making black in the second quarter this year," Love agreed with speculation that previously announced installation of a unit computer here reflects a decision to direct GC Steel and Midwest Steel operations from the Quad-Cities.

Also president of Midwest at Portage, Ind., Love is bringing his wife and their five children this month to their newly-purchased home in Ladue.

He said he has found local workers "ready to do more than their share to make the plant a success." Production and shipments in 1972 have exceeded 1971 levels, he added.

Scout Fund Project

Senior Girl Scouts will wash cars at the Mobil station, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday to help earn funds for a trip to Colorado in August. They already have held bake sales, rummage sales, car washes and other projects, Mrs. Fay Cheney said.

News Notes Bi-State Cannot Create Air Terminal in Old Post Office

Remodeling of the Illinois Statehouse has halted because of changing governmental needs and uncertainty on how to meet them. Secretary of State John Leavelle said Monday he may withhold further funds and Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon called the remodeling "difficult."

In East-West Gateway Council headquarters this week, the Regional Forum decided to study whether all portions of the St. Louis area are sharing equally in the growth of the region; the Environmental Task Force approved the four-township sanitary sewage proposal here; and the Executive Advisory Committee placed the sewer project on its agenda for 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon (D, Troy) whose term ended in January, on Tuesday was named a fellow of the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics and as guest lecturer at Harvard from Feb. 1 through May 31.

Governor Richard Ogilvie on Tuesday signed a new law making political gifts by race track operators a misdemeanor. It requires public disclosure of stockholders in horse and harness racing enterprises.

Richard W. Horner, president of the Mississippi River Transmission Corp., said Monday a natural gas shortage may cut gas supplies to some large St. Louis area industries next winter. No crisis is expected, and there may be no cuts if the weather is relatively mild, he added.

James Taylor Dies

James P. Taylor, 61, Washington Park, step-father of Ronnie R. Medlin of Granite City, died Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis. An auto agency employee, he also is survived by five daughters, three sons, another stepson, a step-daughter, three sisters and two brothers. The funeral was to be at 2:30 p.m. today in Cahokia.

DONAHUE NOT CHARGED

A right-of-way violation was charged against one of three motorists, Vernon Thompson, Belleville, following a July 7 Highway Three accident in which Jasper Chastain, 38, Mitchell, was injured fatally. It was reported in error previously that the charge was made against Dewey L. Donahue, St. Louis, driver of a truck involved in the crash. Donahue was not charged.

George Puskar Funeral

Services were held Wednesday at an East St. Louis funeral home for George Puskar, 84, Lebanon, a retired Granite City worker and auto dealer who died Wednesday at Routes 162 and July 9 at the Bohannon Nursing Home, Lebanon.

Legal problems have arisen in the Bi-State Development Agency plan for establishment of a transportation center—featuring a downtown airline terminal—in the Old Post Office in St. Louis.

The plan, as originally worked out with the Old Post Office Landmark Committee in the spring of 1971, was based on having the Old Post Office declared surplus by the General Services Administration and turned over to the Federal Aviation Administration.

In turn, under the Federal Surplus Property Act of 1944, it was contemplated that the FAA would donate the building to Bi-State.

In June of this year, the Agency was advised that the FAA general counsel had ruled that—because Bi-State was not the owner of the airport (Lambert International) which would be directly benefited by establishment of a downtown airline terminal—the building could not be donated to Bi-State.

In view of anticipated favorable action in Congress on new legislation pertaining to preservation of historic monuments, it appeared possible that the decision of the FAA was only a temporary roadblock, and that Bi-State would be eligible to carry out the project as planned, upon passage of either S. 1152 or H.R. 6788 or any of the similar bills being considered. However, all bills under consideration carry the requirement that:

"The Secretary shall not approve a financial plan unless it provides that incomes in excess of costs of repair, rehabilitation, restoration and maintenance shall be used by the grantee only for public park or recreational purposes."

The Agency has now been advised that providing funds for public park or recreational purposes is contrary to the intent of the act, and that the Agency would be exceeding its powers in contracting to use surplus income from a project for such unauthorized purposes.

This legal impediment would make it impossible for the Agency to proceed farther on the project, since it would not be able to sell revenue bonds necessary to finance renovation of the building.

Agency officials said yesterday they regret that Bi-State cannot carry to completion a project which it believes would have been of great benefit to the City of St. Louis.

The Agency hopes that another sponsor will be found, so that the project can be carried out. Bi-State "will continue its policy of offering to assist in accomplishment of projects beneficial to this metropolitan area which are within the scope of its statutory authority," it was concluded.

Greatest Airport Ever Built Is Proposed; Only Way Area Can Retain Economic Growth

Comments in a talk in Granite City Tuesday evening by Arlyn H. Saunders, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority:

Today, aviation is one of the most vital factors in the economy and well-being of the country. Airports, the pipelines to aviation, have an overriding importance in the vitality of their regions as well as the nation as a whole. More than 7,000 new passengers are turning to air travel each day. Without an adequate airport, the consequence to the St. Louis region will be comparable to those cities which were bypassed by the railroads years ago. Already, St. Louis, the nation's 10th largest metropolitan area, has slipped to 15th in passenger enplanements.

Transportation Secretary John Volpe says, "It is my judgment—based on various studies of the future demands for air transportation in the St. Louis area—that an additional large airport is required if the forecasted demand is to be met."

Yet, many continue to express their preference for remaining at Lambert at least until 1990 in accordance with the McDonnell Douglas in-house study and the recently released 2½ week, SARC study.

This despite the fact that three comprehensive professional airport engineering studies, including the Northrop report, done for the State of Missouri, say that there is not possible, despite the fact that the airlines using and paying for Lambert have said repeatedly that it is not possible; despite the fact that the Federal Aviation Administration, the nation's top air agency, has said that it is not possible.

To explore the alternatives honestly, let the record show that it is possible to stay at Lambert forever. But after 1980, the airport in St. Louis will stop growing—not because of lack of potential growth in St. Louis but because of a lack of airport capacity. America will grow by 70-100 million people by the year 2000. St. Louis must be prepared to meet the challenge.

Many people would prefer otherwise, but the selection of a new primary airport site cannot be based on a referendum. Airports are not located on wishes; we must stick to the facts. We are building a reality based on a most rigid set of requirements.

Reality requires that an airport site provide the optimum of several important requirements: available airspace, convenience to travelers, reasonable cost of site development, surface access that is in minimum conflict with other ground traffic, and a minimal impact on the environment.

When we deal with reality, we find that Missouri's own report offers only the Illinois site as the location for an airport that will serve St. Louis beyond the year 2000.

Lambert Field simply cannot serve the expanding air needs of the metropolitan region much past 1980. When asked recently if a new St. Louis airport is necessary, FAA Administrator Shaffer replied, "Unequivocally, yes!"

The determination of an airport's capacity involves a complex analysis of airport operations and aircraft activity levels. An analysis of the runway system at Lambert, based on current working computer programs, determined the effect that wake turbulence and advanced Air Traffic Control (ATC) procedures—such as computer-aided approach sequencing—would have on runway capacity.

The conclusion was that the Lambert runway system will approach saturation by 1980 even if general aviation (non-airline) activity could be reduced from the present 38% to 15% of total aircraft movements (a 60% reduction from 1970 levels).

If no further restrictions are placed on general aviation, saturation will be reached sooner. For instance, if general aviation movements remained at 38% of total movements, then saturation would occur before 1975. Developmental testing of the new McDonnell Douglas F-15 will place an additional burden on the capacity of Lambert.

Just around the corner, a boom is predicted in charter air travel as younger, more affluent Americans take advantage of the low cost of charter travel to visit places at home and abroad that only a few years ago were limited to the wealthy.

Airline officials foresee that, within a short time, in addition to the regular passenger loads, four or five 350-passenger airplanes will be loading or unloading at the same time.

The capacity of an airport is related not to runway length, but to the number of runways capable of simultaneous operation.

Recently, the mayor and the airport commission announced plans to expand Lambert to meet air travel demands until the new airport is operational.

Because of its layout, Lambert Field is restricted to single runway operations. Simultaneous air carrier operations are not possible now, or even after the expansion.

The SARC report, commissioned by the new Missouri authority, forecasts 14 million passenger enplanements for the St. Louis metropolitan area in 1990. Chicago's O'Hare field handles that number at present using three sets of independent parallel runways, a six and eight lane access highway and a mammoth terminal complex. Can anyone imagine imposing that kind of demand on Lambert?

There are many reasons calling for the construction of a new major airport in the St. Louis region to be located at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill.

We are trying to develop something of maximum benefit for all the people of our two-state region, without damage to the environment, enhancing the environment where possible.

In conclusion, our planning and design of the new airport and its terminal and supporting facilities, together with the sound utilization of adjacent land, will result in the finest, most modern air facility in the nation—one that can retain St. Louis' position as a major air gateway.

We are proud to see it as an aerial doorway to the St. Louis region—the greatest airport that has ever been built. It will be the finest FRONT door a city could ever have.

Korean Talks Show Far East Logjam Has Been Broken

Copley News Service

The agreement by North and South Korea to take independent steps looking toward reconciliation is perhaps the most dramatic evidence to date of a broadening in the political logjam that has characterized international relations in the Far East for a quarter of a century.

The Peking and Moscow summits have apparently convinced Koreans on both sides of the 38th parallel that the Soviet Union, Communist China and the United States of America no longer see the division of their country as a major stumbling block in East-West diplomacy.

It is time, the Koreans can assume, for summery at their own level.

The hint of rapprochement between the two Koreas will surely send shock waves throughout the Far East—not all of them beneficial.

On the minus side, leftists in Japan gain new ammunition for arguing that the Japanese should cut their security ties with the United States.

On the plus side, North Vietnamese lose even more justification for refusing to negotiate for peace with the Saigon government.

The news from Korea is especially embarrassing for Hanoi considering that 40,000 South Korean troops are helping the South Vietnamese defend their country.

In their joint communique, Seoul and Pyongyang declare that unification will be sought through "independent Korean efforts without interference."

It remains to be seen whether this rules out participation by the United Nations in any negotiations or North Korean goal—a role envisioned for the U. N. in 1947 but never fulfilled when the Soviet Union, then occupying the northern half of the country, refused to go along.

Kim Il Sung, installed as head of a puppet government by the Russians, could have had peaceful reunification any time he pleased according to U. N.-supervised elections.

Instead, he sent North Korean troops across the parallel in 1950.

Under the truce that ended the Korean war, he has kept his people locked into a harsh, isolated Communist system with meager economic progress while South Korea has flourished.

It would seem to require a miracle of statesmanship to work out a basis for blending the lock-step society of the North with the open society of the South.

What formula does Kim have in mind, considering that South Korea is far stronger than North Korea in both economic and military terms?

Obviously, Kim's new task is aimed at achieving one long-sought North Korean goal—the departure of U. S. forces from South Korea.

President Park Chung Hee of South Korea may be sensitive to the yearnings of his people for reunification.

But he would do well to recall the admonition of the late Syngman Rhee, South Korea's first president.

It is always easy to find peace and security when confronted with Communism, Rhee observed. All you have to do is surrender and accept slavery.

"The Communists," he said with unerring accuracy, "never kill their slaves."

privately, Statehouse Democrats have been generally conceding Illinois to Nixon if anyone but Kennedy was the nominee. They would have been so most Republican leaders would have been deeply disturbed by an Edward Kennedy candidacy. It would have revived haunting memories of that emotion-charged 1960 campaign when the late John F. Kennedy was declared the Illinois victor over then Vice President Nixon by a disputed 8,838 votes.

With McGovern on the ticket, the private predictions are for disaster.

McGovern is considered by most Illinois strategists as far too liberal for a state which leans even among Democrats, as conservatively as this one.

There also has been a feeling that due to the long, bitter party for gubernatorial nominee Daniel Walker, already in uneasy joining with the Daley brothers, even believed to be losing ground steadily as his background and proposals come under increasing voter scrutiny.

Organized labor, an important factor in Illinois campaigns, is enthused about neither Walker or McGovern.

Middle-class voters, especially in the prosperous Chicago suburbs, share with others a profound distrust of McGovern's tax ideas and would be expected to turn out in record numbers to back Nixon on election day.

At the Statehouse, there also is a growing feeling that many who crossed over to vote for Walker in a protest against Lt. Gov. Paul Simon's frankness on the income tax in the March primary, will flock back to Ogilvie after studying Walker's own tax and spending views.

A Kennedy candidacy would be a counterblast to many of the problems associated with a McGovern-led ticket in Illinois. Daley unquestionably would be seen galvanizing into the climactic effort of his long political career.

I wonder whether anyone has seen a different type of rose bush being planted lately? I'm afraid it is the wrong time for replanting it, and it will die.

Not too many of these types of rose bushes are around, though. It will be safe to plant one at the grave next fall?

Sorry to have taken so long to tell you, but thank very much for printing the page numbers on your front page indicating where the births and deaths are listed.

In the present days of haste and bustle, this saves much time.

We can send our cards, or in part we started school to get a better understanding of our people, and she appreciates it.

"We know that if there is a problem encountered, between the three of us there is enough intelligence for us to be able to solve it as long as we keep the communication door open. She calls us 'cool,' the ultimate teenage compliment."

"In regard to the truth, people here, don't be so quick to put them down because they don't buy everything that our government sells. They are not so very wrong."

"Not so long ago at Southern I had the honor of hearing a college speaker. He opened his speech with 'The United States government has lied and lied until it no longer knows how to tell the truth.'"

"If you believe your minister about religion, then you had better believe this man on what he says about government lies. Our young people, for the most part, believe as he does."

"Yes, our mortgage is paid and we are not going to upset the courthouse. We might see that ballot job or some other revenue, so we sit back and keep quiet."

"In conclusion, if you can take a piece of paper and write down what you are going to do tomorrow, next week, next month, then you are in a dangerous rut."

"The next time one of your friends says 'I'm a communist,' he hears that they do terrible things on the SIU-Carbondale campus, tell him, 'Why don't we go down to Southern and enroll and find out for ourselves if this is true.'"

KIND, WATCHFUL CARE

To the Editor:

This concerns the good I saw in my recent stay as a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

I was in a room with a patient who called according to the patient, a very elderly lady.

In the past, I have heard so many people express opinions, such as that if you are old, they forget you are there.

I would like to tell anyone who has someone dear to them, and cannot remain at their bedside, the nursing staff of the fifth is always there when needed.

"I never once had them refuse or complain when I rang if the little lady needed anything. Their voice tone was kind—very sweet and understanding, as if they were speaking to their own mother."

They deserve praise and admiration for a job well done.

To the Editor:

With the rampant wave of dishonesty prevailing in current times, I wanted to share an honest deed with you.

After spending two hours trying to retrace my steps, I headed for home with tears trying to fill my eyes.

As I turned into our driveway, my husband came out waving my purse in the air.

As the full impact hit me, the tears spilled over and out.

You guessed it: While I was frantically seeking the lost purse, a very honest man had found it and had taken the time to return it to my home.

The new Illinois child labor law banning employment of boys and girls under 16 in dangerous factory work and other restricted occupations, is now in effect. Occupations and hours of those 14 and 15 years old are limited under its provisions.

Despite a 15% raise in rent authorized by the new federal rent control law, most Quad-City renters seem to have escaped a rent increase, temporarily at least.

State Status -- Miami Impact on Illinois Election

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield—The Illinois election may be decided this week.

Beneath the Statehouse Dome there is a substantial consensus that what has been happening at the Democratic national convention in Miami Beach may well determine the outcome in key statewide races for governor and U. S. senator.

The hopes and fears of Illinois Democrats and Republicans alike centered on the choice as nominee for President.

Capitol Republicans were almost publicly cheering for Sen. George S. McGovern.

Republicans are confident that President Nixon would win even if McGovern, perhaps even with Eisenhower proportions that would not only assure the re-election of U. S. Sen. Charles H. Percy, but also pull in Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie and, perhaps, even the entire state ticket.

Against the presidential rivals, there would probably be no landslide and the state GOP candidates would have to count far more on their own efforts.

Most Republican leaders would have been deeply disturbed by an Edward Kennedy candidacy. It would have revived haunting memories of that emotion-charged 1960 campaign when the late John F. Kennedy was declared the Illinois victor over then Vice President Nixon by a disputed 8,838 votes.

"Figures I have, based on cold-fact realism, show that 65% of the young people who use drugs in college were using them before they got there. Drug information about young people in my town can be made available."

"Are Pat and I accepted by the students? Yes. Neither of us have ever been the subject of pointed remarks."

"These young people will talk to an adult if adults have an open mind. They don't want you to agree with everything they say. This will turn them off fast; they will walk away from you."

"We don't agree with everything they say, either. But they will talk to adults and we will—if given the chance. But they don't want to be lectured to."

"What has this going to Southern do for Pat and me? It has opened our eyes to the communications for us. Now we discuss subjects that we have both studied."

"Only, we have one agreement. We never take a class together. She makes A's."

"I learn from her. She carries more subjects than I and we discuss them. She tells me the highlights of each class if there is something of particular interest she thinks I might want to know. So I am also benefiting from her studies."

"Now I study with her. It is used to grab it and get it. I am bored for something to do and go to the office, where I can always find work."

"Let's be realistic. Now we sit down together and do our respective homework. And now we come down to school together for events."

"There is one belief that I can no longer hold entirely. That is that children will follow the example set by their parents."

"Our two sons will walk past Pat and me with stacks of homework in front of us. They congratulate us on studying so hard—and then go on out to play."

"These two would rather have a bath than do homework, and they are ecology's best friend when it comes to conserving water."

"We now read those marvelous books that we heard about so many years. We have added about 30 books to our collection and try to read them between assignments."

"I wanted to know about drugs and younger people. If you want to know about something, go where it is. Last summer I interned at Synergy, the Drug Crisis Center, on the SIU campus after spending about a half-year there learning about drug usage."

"I now have a better understanding of how young people get involved in drugs and why they do it."

"If any of us newspaper people here go to a fire or a wreck, we don't park our car a mile away from the scene and try to get the facts from passing people. We get out of our car, walk right up to the wreck or fire, look and start asking questions."

"Yes, regarding drugs, we do park a mile away and ask questions of people who pass by. On this feeble information, generally one or two articles we read, written by someone who is either prejudiced or uninformed, we write our stories about drugs."

"For some reason, we are reluctant to get up close, watch and ask questions of drug users."

Pontoon Trustees Vote To Block Stormwater Sewer

TWO PERSONS INJURED

Federal Land Sales Act Aids Vacation Home Buyer

WOMEN DON'T LIKE To Be Unseated to Dinner . . . Recommended Solution Take Your Wife to Dinner and Be a GREAT GUY!

BERT'S CHUCKWAGON
1537 JOHNSON RD.

Despite objections by Trustee Fred Recer, the Pontoon Beach Village Board has voted to block the outlet of the village's stormwater sewer into Long Lake and to allow the sewer to fill and back up into the yards of those residents whose home sewage systems are illegally connected to the storm sewer.

No date for the project has been set but approval by the village board was the last step required before actually blocking the sewer. The Madison County Environmental Control Council endorsed the idea June 26.

Recer objected to the plan, telling the trustees that it will not work. He said the water will come up manholes and into the village streets before it would flood the yards.

He also said he felt the project was discriminately aimed against the Lakeview Estates Subdivision, which is serviced by the storm sewer. "Only a very small portion of the sewage flowing into the lake is from that pipe. Only about two gallons of water a day come out of there," he said.

"I can show you one pipe out of Nameoki Township which puts out 20 gallons in half a day," he added. "If we are going to stop this, let's start at one end of the lake and stop everyone who is polluting it," he told the trustees.

Despite the objections, the other five trustees voted in favor of the plan. Recer abstained from voting.

Later Recer resigned from his post as chairman of the village street committee. He cited a lack of cooperation from the other trustees as "50% of the reason."

AUTO VANDALIZED
William Bratten, 1051 Washington Ave., Madison, reported during the weekend that the left front fender of his auto, parked at his home, had been scratched with a pointed object. The auto also had been vandalized on two previous occasions.

Two persons were injured when autos driven by Daniel W. Shelby, 22, of 232 Alexander St., and Catherine A. Howlett, East St. Louis, were in an accident early this week on Edwardsville Road near E. 21st Street. Hurt were Shelby and Robert D. Howlett, 32, of East St. Louis.

SHOPLIFTING CHARGED
Patricia Glasper, 21, of East St. Louis, was arrested on a shoplifting charge at the P. N. Hirsch Store, 18th Street and Edison Avenue, during the weekend.

that special dream house. For many persons, however, their savings buy disappointments instead of dreams.

According to the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, "Thousands of people every week are being misled or cheated when buying lots for recreational, retirement or investment purposes."

Because it heard so many consumer complaints about questionable sales practices by land developers, Congress passed the Interstate Land Sales Full Disclosure Act in 1968.

If you ever intend to buy land promoted for recreational, retirement or investment purposes, you will be interested in some provisions of the law:

First of all, virtually any land developer who is selling or leasing 30 or more unimproved lots of under five acres each is required to furnish you with a property report giving detailed information about the land you are considering.

Insist upon a property report and study it before you buy.

The property report represents one of your primary sources of protection under the law.

Second, the property report must tell you:

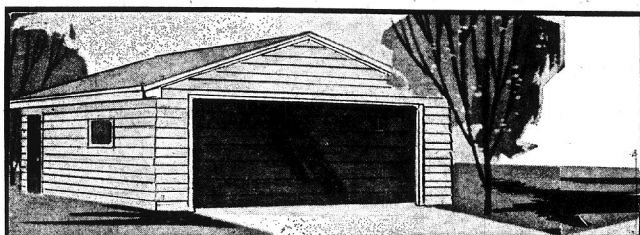

- Distances over paved and unpaved roads to neighboring communities.
- Existence of any liens on the property.
- Availability of recreational facilities and related costs or assessments to you, the buyer.
- Availability of sewer and water services, gas and electricity.
- Soil and foundation conditions that could cause problems in construction.
- Number of houses currently occupied in the development.
- Availability of schools, medical and shopping facilities and public transportation.
- Probability of receiving clear title to the land when you have paid for it.
- Many other features about the land of importance to you in deciding whether to buy.

Of course, your best protection is to see the land before you buy.

If you desire more information about the law and your rights as a consumer, write to the Office of Interstate Land Sales Registration, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D. C. 20410.

June Meter Revenue Highest in 18 Months

Income from Granite City parking meters in June was the highest since December 1970 at $4,674 in fees and $914 in fines brought total revenue to $5,588.

Collections in December 1970 totaled $5,718, including $4,300 in fees and $1,418 in fines. The June total exceeds the $3,330 collected in May this year and $2,591 collected in June 1971.

The June collection brought the total for the first half of 1972 to $25,502, the highest total for that period in recent years.

The six-month revenues exceed the $23,077 reported in the same period of last year and the $22,545 in the same period of 1970, the year in which a record was set at $50,826 for the 12-month period.

Parking meters operated 26 days in June. The average daily collection was $215, the highest since October 1967 when collections averaged $223 per day. The average daily income in June exceeded the $128 per day collected in May and the $151 average collection in June 1971.

New State Program to Aid 'In-Between' Youngsters

Copley News Service
Springfield — For children without homes there are foster homes. For children with mental problems, there are mental health institutions. For children in trouble with the law, there are juvenile correctional institutions.

But what about the homeless youngster who isn't really mentally ill, isn't really a juvenile criminal, but a bit of both? What about the child who "falls between the cracks" of the other programs?

Now in Illinois there is a special program for just such youngsters. At the Tinley Park Center joint children's program, the residents include a boy born as a result of rape when his mother was 13, who has a record of truancy, curfew violation.

Another was taught to steal at the age of 3, by his mentally disturbed, alcoholic father. Still another child of an unmarried mother has run the streets, living out of garbage cans and sleeping in pool halls since he was 5. They are typical.

Most of them already have been in and out of juvenile correctional institutions, and some have been in mental institutions. In between, they ping-pong back and forth between their own homes, foster homes and frequently, in between, with stepmothers with whom they didn't get along.

In 1969, Corrections director Peter Bensing proposed a new kind of approach. Working together with the department of mental health, and children and family services, the pioneer program was created for boys 14 through 18, located on a site at Tinley Park contributed by the mental health department which also provides staff and administration. All three departments provide aftercare programs.

With eight teachers, intensive remedial programs are carried out to correct educational deficiencies. Most of the boys are dropouts, or have repeated failure records in school. Though many at 15 and 16 are functionally illiterate when they arrive, within a few months at Tinley Park most of them qualify for elementary school certificates, and move on to high school credits or high school equivalency programs.

Pre-vocational and work training are available. Originally, a sheltered workshop approach was planned, but the youngsters proved to have far more capabilities than that. Presently there are a leather and tailoring program, an auto mechanic course, a workshop, and a photography lab. An electronics communications project is being planned where the boys may build and operate their own radio station.

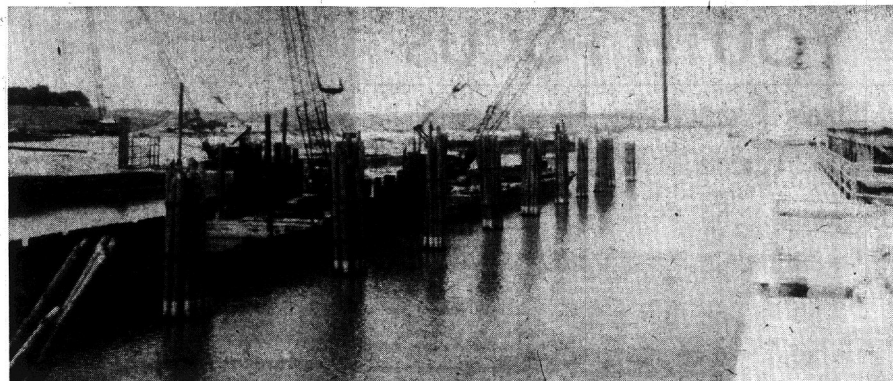

Have Recreational Program
Outside the classroom, the boys take educational field trips, have bi-weekly dances, music training, arts and crafts, picnicking and camping trips. The kinds of experiences other youngsters have as a matter of course but which are all new to most of the Tinley Park boys.

When parents are available, the staff also works with them, so some of the boys have been able successfully to return home. Others go from Tinley Park to a volunteer-managed group home in Chicago Heights, while still others shift their sights to accept the knowledge they are alone, and concentrate on their own self-reliance.

Whatever they do, they are demonstrating that even "difficult high risk" adolescents can be helped, in the right atmosphere. Working together, the three Illinois departments are learning to fill in the cracks between their agencies, so other youngsters won't fall through.

$6 MILLION PROJECT under way at the Chain of Rocks Locks is construction of a concrete guideway to assist vessels entering the locks. The pier at far left was struck during construction by barges pushed upstream by the tugboat Daniel Webster.

That tug is shown in the background returning downstream with motor barges. The upstream guideway will be completed by September 1973. An identical downstream guideway is expected to be completed by June 1974, at an estimated cost of $8 million.

Propes Named Union President Emeritus

Clarence Propes, retiring president of Boilermakers Local 530, was named president emeritus of the union during its annual installation meeting, as Joseph McNonough took office as the new president.

Propes, who served as president 20 years, was presented an electric trolling motor and accessories by the membership. His wife, Mrs. Luella Propes, was given a corsage by the women of the union.

The meeting was followed by a surprise buffet dinner party honoring the retired president. At the installation, Carl Boner took office as vice-president and John Pass began his term as secretary-treasurer. Thomas Westbrook was installed as recording secretary and Ray Cramer, Andrew Dillio and Frank Nadler became trustees.

Weedrow Tinker, Norman Blochberger, Gordon Routh and Billy Miller were installed on the negotiating committee.

UNIQUE SIU-SW PROGRAM. George Hansberry, left, director of the sanitation technology program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, examines equipment with Clifford Fore, center, engineer at the university's sewage and treatment plant. The program, leading to a bachelor of science degree in sanitation technology, is the only such four-year degree program in the United States.

RUNAWAYS RUN AWAY

Four brothers who ran away from their home in Springfield, Ill., and took a freight train to Venice were arrested by Venice police during the weekend. While officers were telephoning their mother to retrieve them, the boys, aged seven, nine, 10 and 16, ran away from the police station.

ADDRESS IN ERROR

An address of 1730 State Street listed as the residence of a man arrested last week on disorderly conduct and intoxication charges is in error, it was reported Tuesday. The address is a used car lot and no one resides there, lessors of the property said.

Pinto Wagon: $2265*

We put a lot into it. You can put a lot in it.

What you can put in: over 60 cubic feet. Put the rear seat down and there's 60.6 cubic feet of carrying space. For comparison: VW Squareback and Vega Kamback both give you a bit over 50 cubic feet.

The basic $2265* model. It's the ideal choice for people who want an economy car that carries more — or a wagon that costs less. The white sidewall tires (shown here) are $28.00.

Front Disc Brakes. Standard. And there's precise rack-and-pinion steering, which is normally found only in some of the more expensive sports cars.

Some Details.

- The lift gate swings up and out of the way.
- The rear passenger windows flip open.
- The spare tire doesn't take up any load room because it has its own well under the floor. And beneath it all, the rear suspension is specially designed for load carrying.

The Squire Option. That distinctive wood-sided wagon look, plus wheel covers, special trim, and more. No other economy wagon offers anything like it. Price with the Squire Option: $2499*. The luggage rack is $45.53 extra. The white sidewall tires $28.00.

2000cc Overhead Cam Engine. It's rugged, economical, peppy — and standard equipment. A 4-speed floor mounted all-synchromesh transmission is also standard.

Better idea for safety ... buckle up!

'Impressions' of Illinois Prosper, New Album Issued

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

Some 13 years ago, the hills of Tennessee, coupled with the little smoky bars that dot the streets of Chicago, gave birth to a singing group called The Impressions.

It was a birth that virtually seems to be indestructible, for The Impressions have survived and prospered over the changes of contemporary music plus the loss of two famous lead singers. For over a year now we have awaited a new album by the group and at last it has arrived.

"Things Have Changed" on the Curtin label demonstrates the group's ability to move forward and, for the first time, individual members take lead singing roles.

As of right now, the Impressions consist of Fred Cash and Sam Gooden, who at one time had a signed contract to play shortstop for the Chicago Cubs, and Leroy Hutson.

The Impressions' history goes back to a day in Chicago when Sam and the Brooks brothers, Richard and Arthur, met Eddie Thomas who was in real estate at the time, and singers Jerry Butler and Curtis Mayfield.

As the title of the album indicates, times did change. When the group's first ous "Levee," began to break the charts, Jerry decided to go solo. Next, the Brooks brothers took their leave, which left Sam, Curtis and Fred.

The lead vocals and song writing fell into Mayfield's capable hands as the trio ran up an impressive list of credits. Just to name a few: "Gypsy Woman," "Keep On Pushin'," "Woman's Got Soul," "Fool For You," "Baby Turn On To Me," and that is not even half of them.

By the time 1970 rolled around, Curtis Mayfield also decided to go solo, since the touring requirements were taking up far too much of his writing time. However, he still does some writing for the group.

According to Fred, during Mayfield's reign as head writer, most of their songs tended to carry a social message.

"We wanted to get away from 'message' songs," he said. "We'd been doing them for five years and I figured if the people hadn't gotten the message by that time, they weren't going to get it. We wanted to go back to being real entertainers."

"Now it's perfect," added Sam. "Curtis can write his way for himself and write our way for us. Our show is much lighter now. It's almost like a revue really organized."

The absence of Mayfield was filled by a young fellow named Leroy Hutson who had worked in a group known as the Mayfield Singers at Howard University.

"We'd auditioned a couple of fellows but they couldn't cut the high parts," said Fred. "Then we remembered Leroy. We did some a capella stuff in the dressing room and I told him to go home and play all his Impressions records and learn the parts."

"Leroy got into the act in four days," Sam said. "He went right from rehearsal into a show with us in Central Park. That was the first time he ever appeared and we got standing ovations."

"Right now, we have a repertoire of about fifty songs. We do all our hits, in a medley, three at a time, plus songs from our albums that we've never performed 'live' before. And our band is so good that if we do a song that we've recorded, it sounds like the record."

Although Mayfield is no longer a member of the group, he is still active with them. On the LP "Things Have Changed," he produced, arranged and wrote all the cuts except for Marvin Gay's "Inner City Blues."

Masters-in-harmony since the beginning. The Impressions still have a sound as solid as an oak, even with their added dimensions.

Cuts such as the title song, "Things Have Changed," "Stop The War," "Our Love Goes On and On" and "This Love's For Real" are all potential chart busters.

The entire album is a joy to listen to and it's nice to see that the Impressions will continue to live and endure the changing times, for they are one of the few groups which can handle songs with so much harmony intact.

But as Sam says, "If we require, we'll pick our replacement to carry on the name. 'Cause we hope there'll always be an Impressions playing somewhere."

They are not the only ones with such hopes.

Derge Family Preparing to Occupy Campus Executive Residence -- 'the Whole Thing'

Sixteen-year-old Dorothy Derge looked over her new bedroom the other day and pronounced it, "somewhat dry," "rather large."

At more than 300 square feet the room does present certain challenges to Miss Derge's interior decorating acumen.

It is one of five upstairs bedrooms originally designated for guests in the executive residence on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

But the downstairs residential area designed for the resident himself has only one master bedroom. As the daughter of the resident—President David R. Derge of SIU—Dorothy gets private quarters upstairs.

Miss Derge inspected her future home during a mid-summer weekend visit to Carbondale. She stayed a couple of days and then set off for Culver Academy, where she is attending an eight-week summer course combining recreation and classes in government.

The private Indiana institution, once an all-male military academy, is now co-educational.

Miss Derge finished her junior year at Bloomington (Ind.) High School, hometown of Indiana University, where her father was executive vice-president before he took over the head job at SIU-Carbondale in February.

When he came to SIU, she moved in with Mr. and Mrs. E. Hollis Merritt, he being a Derge assistant and longtime family friend. Merritt has since been appointed assistant to Derge at SIU.

She will enroll at Carbondale Central High School this fall.

but her future college choice is uncertain, and over her new

Brother David R. III has remained in Bloomington, Ind., where he is an 18-year-old sophomore at IU, majoring in music and playing drums with the well-known Dave Baker laboratory stage band.

Miss Derge has been active in high school theater productions and women's gymnastics. Two years ago, she spent three months with the Merritts in East Africa, where he was working on a State Department-sponsored educational project.

She'll return to Carbondale in August, by which time her father is expected to be moved into the sprawling, 15,000-square-foot campus residence.

Another "member" of the Derge family is now boarding with her brother back in Indiana, but Dorothy would kind of like to get him into the big house to share some of that bedroom space. He's a 12-year-old beagle named Horace.

GC Achievers Attend Conclave in Ozarks

Twenty-two members of Junior Achievement from Granite City attended the Mississippi Valley Achievers' Conference held at Osage House/Lake of the Ozarks.

Altogether, 325 JAers from throughout the metro area participated in the three-day conference which is held annually to enable Achievers from all centers to interact, share ideas on business experiences and make plans for the next JA year.

A highlight of MIVAC was the campaigning for chairman of the area-wide Achievers' Executive Board. Presidents representing each of the JA centers competed for the job. Barbara Black, president of the Granite City Achievers' Association for 1972-73, participated in the campaign. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Black, 2521 North St.

Progressive awards earned by Achievers as they progress through the JA program were presented at MIVAC. Thirty-six Granite City Achievers received the Junior Executive Award during the 1971-72 year. Only three area JA members earned the coveted Executive Award.

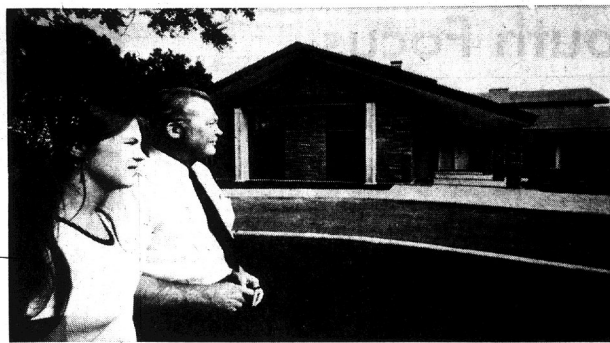

Terry Sladky, Mike Awalt and Claudia Corey qualified in the several categories determining this award. It is available to Achievers who have completed a minimum of two years in JA. Forty-eight teenage members of Junior Achievement received the Executive Award in the metropolitan JA program this year.

Larry Rose and Melanie King acted as delegation leaders for the Granite City Achievers. Harold Smith was a discussion group leader, and Denise Sharp and Barbara Black were discussion group secretaries.

In addition to the meetings, campaigning and award presentations, conference participants were able to horse-back ride, water ski, swim and informally socialize during the three days of the JA conference.

A dance and talent show was sponsored jointly by Achievers from the Granite City, Alton, Southside and East St. Louis JA Business Centers on the second night in the Ozarks.

New friends, increased awareness of business and an improved JA program will be the natural outgrowth of the Mississippi Valley Achievers Conference.

JUST A COTTAGE SMALL by a waterfall? Not quite. David R. Derge, president of Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, shows his 16-year-old daughter, Dorothy, her new home, the executive residence on the campus. She will spend the summer attending Culver (Ind.) Academy and will be a senior this fall at Carbondale Central High School.

residence on the campus. She will spend the summer attending Culver (Ind.) Academy and will be a senior this fall at Carbondale Central High School.

TAKING A BREAK are some of the 22 Granite City delegates to the Mississippi Valley Achievers Conference at Lake of the Ozarks who found a shady spot for a brief meeting at the busy three-day JA conference. Each JA delegation selected a distinguishing type of dress at the meeting with the Granite City Achievers wearing white "hard hats" as a sign of their center.

SIU Aviation Course Receives FAA Approval

Southern Illinois University's aviation technology program has been re-accredited by the Federal Aviation Administration under stringent new guidelines established this spring at Carbondale.

Accreditation was granted on the basis of a two-day study of curricula, facilities and equipment conducted in May by a team of six FAA inspectors and an administrator, according to Chairman E. A. DaRosa. Approval of Southern's program as an aviation technician maintenance school with ratings in airplane and power plant means that it is in compliance with stringent new FAA standards developed in a three-year survey of needs in aircraft maintenance inspection and servicing, DaRosa said.

Southern's aviation program is offered through the Vocational-Technical Institute. It opened in 1964 at the Southern Illinois Airport between Carbondale and Murphysboro and was first accredited by the FAA in 1966. Its enrollment ceiling of 200 students has been maintained since 1968.

$700,000 Computer Is Presented to SIU-C

The School of Engineering and Technology at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale has received as a gift from the McDonnell-Douglas Corporation in St. Louis an analog computer, valued now at $700,000.

The computer electronically simulates real mechanical and electrical systems.

The computer was used by McDonnell-Douglas to simulate guidance and control systems for the Mercury and Gemini spacecrafts and the F-4 and F-15 aircraft, Thomas M. McCalla, assistant professor, department of electrical science and system engineering said.

Usually a model of the system or a portion of it is "built" or electrically simulated on the analog computer; then variables in the system can be changed simply by turning knobs in order to find out what will work best on the later construction of the system, McCalla added.

Sometimes a partially constructed system is plugged into the computer while the rest of the system is simulated by the computer. This permits experimentation to be run on the completed portion as well as suggested designs to be studied on the proposed portion of the system.

James G. Smith, chairman of the department of electrical science and system engineering, said the computer will be used to give students practical experience on the type of equipment found in industry and for graduate students to do developmental work on analog computer systems.

$800,000 in Grants Will Give New Medical School a Faster Start

Springfield—Dr. Richard H. Moy, dean of the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine, has expressed pleasure at the announcement that the SIU School of Medicine had been awarded dual grants by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The grants from the Start-Up Assistance Grant Program and the Capitation Grant Program total more than $800,000 and were made possible through provisions of the Comprehensive Health Manpower Training Act of 1971.

Southern Illinois University at Carbondale was one of five new schools of medicine to receive a Start-Up grant. The new funds will be used to speed enrollment and accelerate the output of the Medical School, according to Dean Moy.

"The fact of these grants confirms the validity of the Illinois plan for new medical schools," Moy said.

"I hope that all Illinois citizens will take pride not only in this new federal partnership in their project, but in the foresight, creativity and determination that Illinois has shown in assuming a position of national leadership in meeting health manpower needs.

"The commitment by the state to the goals and philosophy of this school was most instrumental in our receiving these grants."

The initial effect of the Start-Up grant will be to insure the Medical School that it will be able to increase the number of first-year enrollees from the 24 initially envisioned to 48 during the first year of instruction at the school, beginning June 1973, and from 48 to 72 during the second year.

In addition, and perhaps of greater significance, the Start-Up grant will permit an advanced-standing class of 24 students during the first year. In so doing, the school will advance by one year the date of the first graduating class and the full utilization of the resources and facilities available to it in Springfield and Carbondale.

The Capitation Grant will assist the School of Medicine in meeting the long-range goals and innovations in medical education that were envisioned when the school was established.

More specifically, the grant will allow the School of Medicine to develop its three-year curriculum leading to the M.D. degree; to participate in interdisciplinary programs of training with other educational institutions in the Springfield area; to devise programs for the training of new roles, types and levels of health care personnel; and to make innovative modifications of existing programs of health education, such as will be provided by the Office of Health Care Planning.

On Honor Roll

Holly P. Odneal, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Billy L. Odneal, Granite City Army Installation, was among 1,520 Montana State University students named to the spring quarter roll.

Miss Odneal is a sociology major at MSU, located at Bozeman, Mont.

Illinois State U. Plans 3-Yr. Bachelor Degree

It will be possible starting next fall for a student at Illinois State University, in accordance with recommendations of the Carnegie Commission, to earn a bachelor's degree in three years instead of the usual four.

Illinois State has begun utilizing the College Level Examination Program (CLEP) as a means of awarding credit toward general education.

By achieving a score at or above the 50th percentile on the national sophomore norms of the CLEP series, a student may receive a total of 24 credit hours by examination.

A study is under way to determine whether the English composition general exam may also be used to raise this maximum to 30 hours, or about a full year's work.

The new program is a major expansion of the proficiency examination of credit by examination, which previously existed at Illinois State only in the form of proficiency examinations for specific general education courses. This policy is now optional for freshmen entering ISU in 1972-73.

The Carnegie Commission has strongly urged universities throughout the nation to adopt three-year degree programs where possible as a means of making higher education more readily available to students and also to eliminate a complete year's expenses, which at Illinois State run about $2,400, including room, board, books, tuition, fees and incidentals.

Proceeds will go to the fight against dystrophy and related diseases. The event will utilize materials from television personality Mister Patch who is promoting the carnivals on his "Little Castle" children's show.

Two on Dean's List At Bradley University

James W. Laird, son of James Laird of Granite City, and Antonette Selner, daughter of James Selner Jr. of Granite City, have achieved recognition on the dean's list at Bradley University, Peoria. Miss Selner is a sophomore majoring in education. Laird, also a sophomore, is majoring in mathematics.

There are 617 on the dean's list for the second semester of the 1971-72 academic year. Qualification is based on academic achievement with a minimum grade point average for the semester of 7.0, the equivalent of an A-minus on a perfect 8.0 scale. 138 students at Bradley achieved a straight-A, or 8.0 average, on the current dean's list.

New Deadline on State Scholarships Nearing

The deadline for applications for Illinois State Scholarships has been extended until Aug. 1, Elwood Buchanan, administrative assistant in the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office at SIU-SW, noted this week.

Students who submit applications by the Aug. 1 deadline will be considered for the scholarship award for the 1972-73 academic year beginning in September.

Any student interested in applying may pick up applications in the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office in the General Office Building, Room 0214.

Students applying must be residents of the state and will be considered on the basis of financial need.

New System of Lines to Mark Illinois Highways

Copley News Service
Springfield — Highways in Illinois are taking on a new look, with a system of dotted and solid white and yellow lines painted down the road centers.

Robert Craven, engineer of traffic operations in the bureau of traffic, state department of transportation, said the lines are being re-done to comply with a recently issued federal manual of uniform traffic devices.

The state manual is being re-done, as well, to comply with the new federal regulations, under which the line markings must be completed by the end of this year, new sign requirements must be met by the end of 1974, and new signals installed where necessary by the end of 1976.

Craven estimated that probably about one-third of the new striping already has been done on state roads. Under the new approach, when traffic in adjacent lanes is all moving in the same direction, as on Interstate routes, lines between them will remain white.

However, when traffic in adjacent lanes is moving in opposite directions, as on regular two-lane highways, the lines will be yellow. The idea, Craven said, is chiefly to remind motorists who have been driving on interstate routes that they are now on highways where oncoming traffic must be considered.

Edge lines will remain white, Craven said, except in some rare instances on four-lane highways where it is forbidden for

Meaning of Lines

As in the past, a solid line on the driver's side of the center line will indicate a no-passing area, and solid lines on both sides of the center line will indicate no passing in either direction. Broken lines on a driver's side of the center indicate passing is permitted when conditions allow, Craven said.

Changes in signals will not be extensive, Craven said, concerning chiefly such requirements as a yellow arrow following a green arrow, to warn turning traffic the signal is about to change, and addition of a flashing interval on "walk-don't walk" signs, to indicate that pedestrians already in the intersection can continue but others should not start to cross.

Most extensive changes of all will be in the new European type roadsigns which will soon be going up. For instance, Craven said, new signs indicating presence of a school will be pentagonal, with the point of the five-sided signs at the top, suggesting the outline of a school house. Yield signs will be red and white instead of the present yellow and black, and new universal symbols for varying traffic maneuvers will be adopted.

Lutheran Festival Set

More than 11,000 Lutherans from throughout the United States are expected to fill Kiel Auditorium for the Lutheran Anniversary Festival at 3 p.m. Sunday. The event will be held in conjunction with the International Lutheran Laymen's League convention which will continue at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis through Wednesday, July 19.

Illinois to Expand Training for Firemen

Copley News Service

Springfield — Plans now are being made which might enable Illinois firemen to return to school for more training.

The Illinois Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education Commission will establish the fire training courses that firemen and prospective firemen will be able to take to increase their training as well as on the job education.

A similar program has been under way for policemen for quite some time. The police training program has been refined and now is one of the top such programs in the United States.

Under the provisions of the legislation that formulated the commission, cities, villages and fire protection districts would be reimbursed by the state for those firemen who attend the school. The legislation was approved by the General Assembly in 1971. It was sponsored by Sen. Harris Fawell, R-Naperville.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie presently is appointing members to the commission.

Plan Degree Curriculum

Presently the plans call for the proposed courses to be offered at an already established institution of higher learning. One of the future aims of the program would be to establish a curriculum that eventually will lead to the granting of degrees in fire prevention and fire fighting. There are some universities in the United States now offering such a program.

Apparently at first the program will be about a six week program. It will cover mainly the basic points of fire prevention and fire fighting. The commission first will have to determine the minimum standards that will be used in establishing the course.

It is hoped that the program will raise the level of local fire protection by upgrading and maintenance of a high level of training for the fire protection personnel.

Truck License Deadline

Owners of trucks and other second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal year basis will have until midnight Saturday to display 1973 license plates on their vehicles. Secretary of State John W. Lewis reminded motorists this week.

Area Groups Attending Symphonic Rehearsals

Area groups planning to attend symphony concerts or rehearsals during the 1972 Mississippi River Festival season at Southern Illinois University - Southern campus range from Windsor Studio piano students at Godfrey to a boys' detention home in St. Louis County, according to William Tarwater, chairman of the music department.

Also attending in groups will be senior citizens from the Pruitt Igoe and Blumeyer housing developments in St. Louis. SIU-SW music faculty will provide orientation and instruction regarding specific repertoire, instruments and sections of the orchestra, function of the conductor and proper concert etiquette, Tarwater said.

Four groups can be accommodated each weekend during the six-week residence of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra. The symphony conductor and music director is Walter Susskind.

Groups scheduled to attend either a Saturday or Sunday night concert or a Thursday morning rehearsal include a youth group from St. John's Methodist Church, Edwardsville; Ferguson - Florissant school string program members;

Varied Racing Boats to Compete Sunday at Lake

More than 3,000 spectators are expected to line the banks of Horseshoe Lake Sunday to watch the annual professional boat races, which will include the unlimited hydroplanes racing at speeds exceeding 110 miles-per-hour. The races again are sponsored by the Granite City Kiwanis Club which is providing $750 in prize money. Racing will start at 10 a.m. and continue until about 4 p.m. About 75 racing craft from throughout the Midwest are expected to compete in the sanctioned events. Six classes of boats are expected for the professional events and there will be a class for children between the ages of 10 and 14. The feature event of the day will be a one-half hour marathon endurance race for the streamlined and custom built boats in the outboard pleasure craft class. Among the professional drivers competing will be St. Louis radio announcer Lou Cooley and his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Cooley. Mrs. Cooley presently is second in the national point standings of the American Outboard Federation and the National Outboard Federation. She holds the record for the fastest time from Kansas City, Mo., to St. Louis on the Missouri River and is co-holder of the records for the north and south races between St. Louis and New Orleans on the Mississippi River.

During the day, spectators will have an excellent view of the course from either the east or the north banks of the lake, Seebold said. The Kiwanis Club will provide a stand on the east bank with food and drinks. Parking facilities will be provided for a fee of $1 per car.

William Seebold Sr., chairman of the project, estimated that 14 heat races will be run during the day.
